FILES REPLY
ON SECESSION

secession and incorporation from the said municipality.

"A few days later I received a letter from the then Premier, Dr. MacLean, who evidently thought it only right and fair that he should hear the other side of the question and who thought that the Reeve of Saanich was a proper person to apply to the following is a copy of his letter:

"Dear Reeve Crouch—I understand that you have received a copy of a letter submitted by C. H. O'Halloran on behalf of certain ratepayers of Wards Six, Five and part of Four, who are apparently in favor of disincorporation from your municipality. I will be glad if you will give this memo consideration and reply to me with such comments as you care to make.

"Yours faithfully,
"J. D. MacLean."

"Acting on this letter a little later I replied in a memo of twenty pages. Evidently my reply does not please Messrs. O'Halloran and Harvey who, in a further reply of eleven pages, printed in the local papers and also sent to your honorable body, say: 'Reeve Crouch exceeded his authority under the Municipal Act in framing a personal reply as Reeve without the authority of the municipal council.'

"My reply to this letter is: Any time the Premier of this province asks me to give any information or facts regarding the municipality of which I am Reeve, his request will be complied with.

"Now, I have neither the time or desire to enter into a competition with these legal gentlemen as to who can write the most pages to your honorable body, they have already filed and put in some ninety-eight pages, and the more they write the greater will be their personal gain. On the other hand, the Reeve of Saanich will not receive a cent for his efforts, but is doing it simply and solely in what he believes to be the best interests of an overwhelming majority of ratepayers in the municipality.

"I am forwarding to each member of your honorable Council a copy of my reply for their study and convenience. I have nothing to add and nothing to take away.

"In their reply, Messrs. O'Halloran and Harvey say: 'The reply of Reeve Crouch proves to the hilt the case of the Saanich farmer for secession. If they can find comfort in this I can find comfort in the fact that the fact remains, should so, but the fact remains, and they cannot disprove it in spite of legal quibbles and twisting of figures in an effort to prove that black is white, that the audit and report of the two municipal accountants, whose reports are embodied in my reply, show:

"WARD SIX FIGURES
"First—That in a joint period extending over five years (1923-1927) the most rural ward of Saanich municipality, Ward Six, had the sum of $3,730.25 expended in its ward over and above all taxes paid in by it for whatever purposes. Our books are ready to prove this, and I will be glad for any duly appointed accountant to go over the same. Where did the burden of taxation fall heavily upon the rural sections? Certainly not upon Ward Six.

"Secondly—That in the same period extending over five years, the combined wards of Five and Six only paid in taxes, from all sources, $5,732.97 over and above all taxes spent in their wards; a very small amount, you will agree, to make all this trouble and fuss about.

"In this connection, I would particularly draw your honorable body's attention to Messrs. O'Halloran and Harvey's reply appendix 'C'; this is a most contemptible juggling of figures, as it is an endeavor to make a surplus of $5,732.97 look like $34,575.51.

"ROAD EXPENDITURES
"Thirdly—That though Wards Five and Six paid several thousand dollars more in school taxes than as spent in their schools, our accountant and books show that the sum of $3,598.65 was given to their council for road appropriations, and during the same period only $27,463.76 was given to the councilors of Wards Two and Seven, so that rural Wards Five and Six received more for road appropriations than Wards Two and Seven, and the sum was expended in their wards and rightly charged to them. In other words, whatever extra they paid in the way of school taxes was given back to them, and spent by their ward representatives in their wards. There is no misstatement about this; our books are open to show it. (Years 1923-1924). Also, during the same period, Ward Seven (inner ward) passed a local improvement road by-law for $25,000, and this was spent on its roads; it alone was assessed for, and it raised its taxes several mills higher than any other ward."LAND ASSESSMENT
"Fourthly—That out of 758 petitioners who signed the petition under a few high pressure canvassers had taken it from house to house, and with the usual arguments that a man who wants you to sign will

"On page nine in my reply I have proposed a plan, which to any ward (rural or urban) who desires to pay its share of the burden of taxation, is most fair to all, very practical and easy to put into effect."

M.P. TO RETURN
PAIR OF BOOTS

Today Muncey was found. As the Empire parliamentary special, steamed into Windsor, N.B., Mrs. Gordon S. Stairs, sister-in-law of Muncey, was waiting on the platform with the needed address.

She had a long talk with Colonel Collins, who went over the whole incident with her.

MR. MUNCEY REMEMBERS
VANCOUVER, Oct. 3.—"Well, well, so it was Colonel Collins who shot and wounded me and took my boots. I am certainly glad to learn his identity after all these years, and I am sorry we did not meet to chat over our Boer War experiences when he was in Vancouver."

Mr. Muncey thinks the letter referred to by Colonel Collins did not reach its destination, but he is not certain of this.

Houdini's crusade against fraudulent spirit mongers occupied a great deal of his time and thought during the last years of his life. But there was a brief period in his early stage career when, assisted by his wife, he used to do a "mind-reading" and "spirit-message" act, pure hocus pocus, of course.

One night he was tipped off that two negroes—the local "bad men"—were in the gallery. These men went about armed with razors, and three weeks before one of their pals had been murdered. While no tangible evidence could be raised to fasten the crime on them, the people of the town felt that they were implicated.

"When Houdini began to give his 'messages,' he presently stepped forward with a puzzled, earnest face. 'I have a message here for Bill Doakes and Jim Saunders,' he said. 'It comes from Benny Carter. He says: 'Yo boys bettah put yo' razors away or yo' is sho' goin' to be where Ah is now.' It is no Doakes and Jim Saunders present?'

There was an awed silence, and then, as someone in the gallery murmured a chair and body stronger—toward the exit, a quavering voice replied: "Yes, dey is, but dey ain't stayin'."

"He—My dear, our engagement must be off. A fortune teller has told me I shall marry a blonde within a month. She—Oh, that's all right, I can be a blonde within a month."

NEW UNIT IS TO BE BUILT AT ESSONDALE

used will be of Canadian manufacture, while the glazing will be of British manufacture.

Inside the whole of the partitions will be from factories of this province, as will also be the plaster of the walls. The maple and linoleum flooring will be the product of Eastern Canadian factories, while all the doors of metal, kalamain or wood will be manufactured in British Columbia mills and factories.

The hardware generally will be of British manufacture, and will be made to conform to the locking system. It now exists in the other buildings at the hospital.

The construction will be fireproof throughout, and has been designed externally to harmonize with the two former units that have been erected. The layout internally, however, as stated will be totally different to any of the other outbuildings.

SEGREGATION OF PATIENTS
In the designing of the building special care has been taken to segregate the different classes of patients, and take care of the supervision of them. This building will have five floors. The ground floor will have facilities for recreation rooms for the patients, which can be utilized for wards and day rooms in cases of emergency.

On this floor will also be located the clinical laboratory for the whole of the institution, with rooms for post-mortem, serology, bacteriology, dispensary, etc., and in these the various tests and other operations for the benefit of the patients can take place.

LABORATORIES
An eye, ear, nose, throat and dental laboratory will also be located alongside the clinical laboratory. There will be accommodation for the steward's stores and the refrigeration plant for the whole of the institution.

The main faun room, and machinery section is located in the centre of this floor, from which the heat and ventilation is provided for the building. The first floor accommodates the administrative offices for this building, kitchen, patient's dining-room and staff dining-room in the centre section.

To the east and west are wings for patients, dormitories and day rooms, each with their own lavatory, bathing, nurses' stations, linen, property and other rooms. This same arrangement is carried out in the two floors above. Ample provision is made for fire escapes and there is an abundant supply of natural as well as mechanical ventilation for each room. Each room will be provided with light from the east, west or south, or a combination of these.

The second floor has, besides the dormitory wings, accommodation for disturbed patients and an infirmary for physically as well as mentally sick patients. Over the administration section is provided accommodation for the medical staff.

The third floor comprises, besides the dormitory wings, accommodation for the most disturbed patients, complete with all dining and other facilities.

HANDICRAFT WORK
The attic floor, which under the former design was used to house the staff, has been adapted for occupational therapy work for women who cannot be employed on the grounds and for whom provision must be found for the utilization of the labor in such work as sewing, tailoring, basketry and other such lines of work that is valuable to the institution, and of benefit to the patients themselves.

A passenger elevator and dumb waiter service serves each floor.

The nurses' home, which will be another building in this new unit, will accommodate about ninety nurses. It will be located along with the other staff residences. The building will have a large living-room, reception room, library, lecture room and quarters for the matron supervisors and nursing staff. This building will be two stories in height.

This building will have a concrete foundation with frame upper structure, with cedar siding and cedar shingle roof, plastered inside, and having native fir floors, doors, sashes, etc. Practically the whole of the material used in this building will be British Columbia production, and manufactured in the province. The exceptions will be the hardware, which will be, however, of Canadian manufacture, and the glass, which will come from England.

The apartment block will be a two-story frame building, which will house eight families, comprising six live-room suites and two four-room suites. It will supersede the old White House, which will be demolished. This building will conform to the Nurses' Home as far as materials used in the construction are concerned, and in the color design.

FARM COTTAGE
The farm cottage will be capable of accommodating an additional thirty patients and staff to take care of the additional help required to operate the farm, with the increased accommodation due to the erection of the new chronic building. This building will be of frame construction with brick veneer and shingle roof to match the existing building. The internal construction will be in keeping with the original building, with the same high percentage of local products used in its construction as will be furnished locally, but the greater part of the material will come from Eastern Canadian and British steel mills.PIONEER DIES

BRACKEN SAYS FUNDS LACKING FOR WITNESSES

Crown Asked to Bear Expense of Bringing Twenty Persons—Assize Judge Wants Affidavits

RETRIAL TODAY OF LEUNG CHONG CASE

VANCOUVER, Oct. 3.—Second trial of Leung Chong, alias Long Chung, Lung Chung and Chong Lung, charged with the murder of Constable Ernest Sargent, opens in Assize Court tomorrow. A. M. Johnson, K.C., will conduct the case for the crown and Stuart Henderson, of Victoria, will be counsel for the defence.

At the Spring assizes Leung Chong was found guilty of the crime charged against him, alleged to have been committed early on the morning of November 5 last, and was sentenced by Mr. Justice Morrison to hang on June 22. His plea to the Court of Appeal for a new trial was allowed.

True bills have been returned by the grand jury in the following cases:

Johnnie Wing and Pong Joe, selling narcotics; Charles Peterson, defamatory libel; P. H. McPherson, assault occasioning bodily harm.

Stating that his client is without means, S. H. Hewitt made application on Wednesday to Mr. Justice Murphy in behalf of Robert Bracken for direction as to the bringing of approximately twenty witnesses from Victoria and other points in the province at the expense of the crown to testify in Bracken's behalf. Bracken is charged jointly with Edward Marshall with publishing a defamatory libel. His Lordship adjourned the application until counsel submit affidavits of particulars regarding the desired witnesses and the nature of their testimony. He declared he would not commit the province to the expense without having this information before him.

FORMER LOCAL MAN VISITOR

Major A. H. Macfarlane Tells of Great Irrigation Project in Iraq Desert Area

On eight months' leave of absence, after three years in the employ of the Iraq Government as construction engineer on a project which will convert millions of acres of desert into cultivated land, Major A. H. Macfarlane, formerly of Victoria, accompanied by his wife, is registered at the Empress Hotel. They are enjoying a vacation visit with Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Macfarlane, of 1009 Cook Street, the parents of Major Macfarlane.

Over 15,000 native laborers are directed in the construction work in Iraq by Mr. Macfarlane and some twenty-four other construction engineers. To date 1,000,000 acres of desert have been placed under cultivation. Dates and other tropical fruits are being cultivated, and when the irrigation project is finally completed cotton growing will be taken up. After his visit here he will return to Iraq for another three years. The project in hand will take between fifteen and twenty years to complete.

Mr. Macfarlane was educated at the Victoria High School, the Colorado School of Mines, and was graduated from the School of Practical Science of the University of Toronto.

RUSSIANS TO READ RABBIT RECORDS

British Columbia Bulletin Is Being Translated in Language of Slav Race

The Department of Agriculture in the Parliament Buildings is rather proud of the fact that bulletins issued from that office on matters pertaining to various lines of farming, are finding favor in distant parts of the world. The attention of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Dr. D. Warnock, has just been called to the fact that Russia is to have the advantage of reading a bulletin prepared by Messrs. J. R. Terry and J. Allen, of the Department of Agriculture, dealing with the subject of "Fur Bearing and Market Rabbits."

A letter received from Moscow, Russia, from a native of the country, conveys to the Deputy Minister the fact that the writer has been pleased with the bulletin that he is engaged in translating it into Russian for the purpose of circulating the information contained in it among the people of that country.

WINDERMERE IS ACME OF COMFORT

New Private Hotel, Formerly Alexandra House, Formally Opened—Many Inspect Premises

A most welcome addition to Victoria's hotel system has just been effected with the completion of the Windermere Hotel, at the corner of Courtenay and Douglas Streets, which held its formal opening yesterday afternoon for the purpose of introducing its attractions to visitors and residents in the city.

Known for the past fifteen years to Victorians as Alexandra House, the home of the Alexandra Club and for a long period used as headquarters of numerous other women's organizations, the building has undergone a marvelous transformation which makes it one of the most comfortable and luxuriously appointed private hotels in the city. The additional advantages of being right in the heart of the city, yet quiet and exclusive. About three hundred people called in the course of the afternoon yesterday to inspect the premises, and the management were showered with congratulations on their enterprise when it was discovered what an up-to-date establishment had been created.

From the outside the building retains the original main outlines, although it is soon discovered that the appearance of the front has been improved both from the point of beauty and utility by the substitution of a single central ground-floor entrance for the two doorways which formerly existed. This alteration in the structure constitutes one of the most important changes; the second radical change is found in the creation of an additional floor, making the Windermere a five-story hotel, whereas the old Alexandra House had but four. This seems an architectural mystery to those familiar with the old building, until it is discovered that the 12-ft. of the ballroom has been utilized in such a way that the erstwhile gallery has been converted into a smoking-room and the floor extended round the west and north sides of the ballroom in such a way that it adds a complete story to the structure. Meantime the ballroom, becomes the dining-room, smaller, but so little changed in detail that it might be but a slightly diminished version of the old, handsome hall of happy memories to a whole generation of Victorians young and old who have danced there in times gone by.

The second floor contains the bedrooms distributed through the five floors; a big dining-room which is to be open to the public as well as the resident guests, for breakfast, luncheon, afternoon teas and dinners; a luxurious, furnished lounge extending right across the front of the hotel on the second floor; a charmingly furnished sun-parlor on the same level immediately overhead on the fourth floor, and the office lounge, which occupies the front of the hotel on the ground floor. A lift, operated by a boy in uniform, connects all the floors.

Furnishing throughout has been done with infinite taste and refinement. The office and entrance lounge on the ground floor are furnished with practical simplicity, with light wicker furniture, good rugs, mahogany hotel desk, and built-in concrete strong room for the housing of guests' valuables. Behind this is the big kitchen, with a skilled chef and assistant; the furnace room, boiler room, etc.

The second floor contains the lounge, with its rich colorings of raspberry, gold, rose and green, carried out in chintzes, upholstery and curtains. Comfortable deep chairs are arranged about the room, which is lighted by silk-shaded lamps. A big fireplace at one end adds a home-like touch which is supplemented by a sweet-toned grandfather clock which sounds the quarters. The dining-room opens off the lounge. Those who remember the Alexandra plate-glass mirror, which hung in the north wall. A dumb waiter connects with the kitchen. Individual tables are laid about, their bright cutlery and silver giving an inviting appearance to the room. The curtains here are of striped rose and gold, and the doors have leaded glass.

The bedrooms on the second and third floors are decorated in almost identical manner, the walls of the corridor being of light French grey, with ivory woodwork, the rooms united by aquamarine, with ivory white doors and paneling.

The fourth floor, which in old Alexandra House contained the dining-room and drawing-room, is entirely given up to bedrooms, with the exception of the wicker-furnished sunroom. The corridor has been decorated in Saxe blue and grey tones, the bedrooms, with their hangings of rose and blue, having aquamarine-tinted walls with ivory woodwork. On the top floor, which now has twenty bedrooms, the curtains have a pretty mauve and shrimp coloring, and the carpets are a soft mixture of stone grey and brown.

Telephones and running water are in all bedrooms, throughout the building, and each floor is well equipped with bathrooms. The greatest care has been exercised in the selection of the furnishings, the mattresses and bedding being of the very best. All beds, even in double rooms, are the standard cot size. Special attention is being given to the cuisine, and the dining-room, as already mentioned, is to be open to the public. The management is already considering plans for the accommodation of small dinner dances, special teas, etc. A bureau supplies information regarding trips for guests, and their social entertainment in the evenings is also to be considered, this to be limited, however, to reasonable hours.

AUTO CLUB TOUR COMES TO CLOSE

Island Roads From Victoria to Comox Inspected by Officials Headed by Mr. W. J. Clubb

Completing a four hundred and fifty mile tour of inspection of island roads on behalf of the Island Highway Committee, the Automobile Club of British Columbia, Mr. W. J. Clubb, vice-president of the Victoria branch of the club, Mr. R. R. Webb, secretary, and Dr. W. G. Moore, secretary of the Nanaimo branch, returned to Victoria yesterday.

Condition of roads generally was found to be good for this time of year, and much-needed improvements were found under way in some sections. A report will be submitted to the provincial executive of the club embracing suggestions regarding other improvements considered desirable. Recommendations will be made regarding the continuation of widening operations on the Malahat section, and improvement to the Shewanigan Lake road, which was found to be in poor condition.

On the lower road through the Cedar district, south of Nanaimo, the committee was met by a large delegation of property owners requesting support in their appeal to the Government for oiling of that highway. The Nanaimo branch of the club expressed a desire for oiling of the continuation of Nichol Street to the Island Highway, providing an alternate route in and out of the city, and relieving the traffic on the present entry where pedestrian traffic is heavy.

The road from Parksville to the Alberni Mountain road was found to be rough and in need of repairs to accommodate the heavy traffic developing there while some excellent work in the nature of relocation was noted under way on the mountain section. This new work will greatly reduce the grade and provide one of the best roads on the Island.

In the Comox district some of the best sections of road were found. Parts of the gravel roads in this district were considered second to none, while the oiled sections have an excellent surface and appear to be standing up well.

A meeting of the provincial executive will be held in Victoria in the near future, when the report of the committee will be submitted.

"Too Skinny"

"Seeing skinny folks like that couple makes me think of the time when I was the same way. Remember how puny I was; how I hated to go anywhere because I knew people made fun of me behind my back. I didn't realize it then, but it robbed me of the confidence I have in myself now."

"It sure was a lucky day for me when I heard how this new medicine called Husky puts solid, stay-the-flesh on skinny bodies; fills out hollow cheeks and puts the color of robust health in them; and brings up your vitality. I wouldn't be without it if I had to pay $100.00 a bottle for it."

Nine out of every ten sickly, skinny, timid men and women could round out their bodies, faces, legs and arms by letting Husky keep excessive acidity and gas from robbing their blood of the red corpuscles it must have to keep it from becoming thin and watery. Your blood must be rich to build tissue and muscles. The only way to keep it that way is to make every bite of food you eat supply the vitamins which keep plenty of red corpuscles in your blood. A sour stomach turns your food to acid and gas. Heartburn, indigestion, Sour Rising, Bad Breath and Belching are some of the most certain signs which warn you.

Husky is worth its weight in gold to the more than half a million people who are already depending on it to keep their stomach sound and sweet so every bite of food they eat, counts. Food is too expensive to waste. Your health is too precious to neglect. All drug stores sell Husky.

EGG OUTPUT EXPANDS TO LARGE TOTAL

More Than 22,000 Cases Have Been Shipped From Vancouver Island in Course of Nine Months

CANADA'S PLAN TO BE COPIED

No industry on Vancouver Island in the agricultural group has expanded so rapidly as the shipment of eggs. In the nine months ending Saturday last, the Island poultry men had assembled for shipment 22,176 cases, as compared with 7,903 in 1927, and 376 cases in 1926. Of more than 300 carloads of eggs which have left British Columbia this year, the Island has contributed thirty carloads, and parts of a number of other cars, probably about one-seventh of the total.

The drive made in Canada for people to use more eggs is shown as bearing results, when it is mentioned that in 1920 the average consumption per capita was 14-10 dozens, and in 1926 had grown to 20-10 dozens per capita. In the United States the consumption in 1925 was about seventeen dozens per head. Influenced by the forward policy of the Canadian Department of Agriculture in establishing egg grading regulations which are declared to be responsible for the steady improvement in the quality of the eggs, the United States is proposing to adopt a similar policy.

Recognizing the increasing importance of British Columbia eggs in the Canadian domestic market, owing to these large shipments, the Federal Government has recently sent out Mr. W. Zavitz, record of performance poultry supervisor, and also for a permanent appointment in British Columbia, as Dominion poultry promoter, Mr. G. R. Wilson, who has held a similar position in the Maritime Provinces, and has made a special study of marketing conditions in the East.

STUDENT BODIES ELECT OFFICERS

Beta Delta, Portia and Students' Council Hold First Meeting of High School Term

High school student bodies are forming for this year's activities. During the past week the Students' Council, the Beta Delta and Portia Clubs held their first meetings and elected officers for the year. The election of officers for the Portia Club, which is conducted under Miss Hamilton and Miss Grant, resulted as follows: President, Eileen Pettit; vice-president, Joyce Plant; secretary, Yule George; Camouren representative, Maura Maguire; matric representative, Connie Todd; junior representative, Muriel Davenport; preterm representative, Margaret Bergman; commercial representative, Dorothy Ganner.

Irvin Dawson was elected president of the Beta Delta. This club is advised by Mr. Buck and Mr. Knapton. Other officers are as follows: Vice-president, Kenneth Race; secretary, William Crathall; executive, William Gibson, Genelle, Cave-Brown-Cave, Gordon Fields and James Mayes.

The Students' Council elected Herbert Manson as their president. Mr. Manson was second in the provincial oratorical contest last year. The other members of the council for the year are: Vice-president, James Mayes; secretary, Muriel Hare; social committee, Molly Mercer and William Boorman; public speaking, Joyce Plant and James Gibson; music and dramatics, Theresa Burns and John O'Brien; athletic committee, Bona McMurtrie and Thomas Forbes; second year representatives, Deane Cameron and Robert Kerry.

Mr. Webber, staff adviser to the council, welcomed the body and expressed the hope that it would have a very successful year.

Over eighty students have joined the school choir to practice with the orchestra programme for the Winter season, and possibly for the Victoria Musical Festival to be held here next Spring.

All Saanich Bus Lines Now Under One Management

The Victoria and Sidney bus route, acquired last year by Mr. H. B. Olson, has been disposed of by him to the Vancouver Island Coach Lines. This gives the latter company complete control of bus services on the Saanich Peninsula, in keeping with the role of the ratepayers of the municipality on July 14.

From an advertisement appearing in this issue, it will be observed that the bus service will operate from the Broughton Street Depot hereafter, thus consolidating the services at one centre for public convenience.

MR. J. LEVY IS CALLED TO REST

Well-Known Citizen Came to Victoria From London, England, Forty-Two Years Ago

After an illness lasting six months, Mr. Joshua Levy, a well-known figure on the streets of Victoria, passed away at the family residence, 1022 Balmoral Road, yesterday afternoon. Born in London in 1844, Mr. Levy came to Victoria in 1886, forty-two years ago. For some time he worked for the old Club Theatre, near where the present Bank of Montreal stands.

Sixty years in the cigar business, he established a factory here and was active in business life until 1923, when he retired.

Mr. Levy is survived by his widow, Mary Ann Levy, three sons, all of this city, Joseph, William and Stanley, three grandchildren, William, Pamela and Gordon Levy, and two sisters of London, England. He was a member of the Sons of St. George.

The funeral will take place from Sands Funeral Parlors on Friday afternoon.

'FROZEN NORTH' HELD MISNOMER

Wife of Governor of Mackenzie District Defends Canada's Hinterland

EDMONTON, Alta., Oct. 3.—"I wish I could get people to forget the 'Frozen North'—to stop applying it to our country. It gives the impression of desolation, and the country is anything but desolate," says Mrs. John A. McDougal, wife of the governor of the Mackenzie district of the Northwest territories, who has been spending a few days in the city. Mrs. McDougal is returning her usual custom of going North for the summer, and is going "in" for the winter this year. Five years ago she spent a week in the summer, when the Government House is located, and since then has found it necessary in the interests of her children's education to remain in Vancouver. In the intervening years she has gone "in" on the first boat in the spring, and come "out" on the last. And because she has enjoyed the northern life, she would like others to understand and appreciate it.

Winter has its long nights, it is true, but such wonderful moonlight, and glorious nights! What if the roads are closed for automobile traffic then? Are there not the dog teams? And it is very pleasant to hear the jingling of the bells and the crack of the whip as the teams swing out on the long trail to the next postoffice! Or when one goes out riding. The weather report I can give the impression that Fort Smith is a very cold place, sixty or sixty-five degrees below zero suggest real cold. The one who does not know the climate from experience, but Mrs. McDougal says it is no colder there than in Edmonton, because the atmosphere is drier there than here, and last year a picnic was held at Fort Smith on May 10.

Though the ice was still on the river the day was warm and beautiful. Fort Smith has a mail once a week in the summer, and fortnightly in winter, and some of the old-timers grumble that, what with wireless and radio and mail, they are getting altogether too comfortable, and the peace of the wilderness is gone!

Last Summer Mrs. McDougal and her daughter accompanied her husband North as far as Akivik on a trip of inspection. Mr. McDougal was accompanied by Mrs. McDougal.

The development of the secret-cut silhouette, which has won universal acclaim for Miss Hummel, has another interest in Miss Hummel's "The Heart of London" (H. V. Morton) and in "The Rose of the North" (L. L. Hummel). The "Christmas Book" by the latter author, "The Good Hearted Bear" (Hummel), "The Little Pagan Faun" (Chalmers), and many English, American and Continental magazines bear her illustrations.

Miss Hummel is at present working on a book to be published in the United States this season. Poems about Peter, by Lynde's Boyse Bore, The New York Forum recently arranged a competition for the best poem written around her silhouette, this being won by Tristram Condit. The book is to be issued shortly.

COST OF LAKE ROAD IS TOLD

EXPLANATION MADE BY COUNCILOR STUBBS ON DIVISION OF EXPENDITURE

Subjects for Discussion at Ward Four Ratepayers' Meetings Are

"Only about twenty-six dollars has been spent out of the ward funds on the improvements which have been effected on Lake Road," stated Councilor W. Stubbs, in answer to a question put to him at the opening meeting of Ward Four Ratepayers' Association, held at Marigold Hall last evening.

Having regard to the adverse weather there was a very gratifying attendance of members. Mr. J. A. Dewar, president of the association, was in the chair. At his request the secretary, Mr. F. F. Beckett, read the minutes of the last meeting, which were adopted.

In reference to creating as much enthusiasm in the minds of the association as possible, the chairman suggested that a whist drive as a preliminary to a general meeting might be calculated to stimulate enthusiasm. The date for the general meeting, he said, could be announced at the whist drive. Mr. Stubbs opposed the suggestion on the grounds that previous entertainments of this sort had not had the desired effect.

The chairman then suggested that the former Alderman Todd, Alderman Woodward be asked to give an address on "Greater Victoria." "If you have a man here to talk on that subject," said Mr. Stubbs, "it will have the effect of keeping people away. I am in favor of a Greater Victoria, but I don't think the man in the street is. When Tullium and Cloverdale become part of the city, you can take it from me that the movement will not stop there." He suggested that the Gordon Road water question might be an appropriate subject.

IRRIGATION QUESTION
Councilor Stubbs pointed out that Major J. C. MacDonald, controller of water for the Provincial Government, with whom he had recently spoken up this matter, had said that the irrigation of the Saanich was out of the question. The interest on the capital outlay alone would cost $72 per acre. Another main, leading from Sooke Lake, would have to be installed which would cost about two and a half millions, and the water would have to be paid for besides.

Mr. George McWilliams remarked that the present price of irrigation water was so low that those who used water for domestic purposes only were paying for what they were not getting.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS
Another subject, which was suggested as a suitable topic for a possible speaker at a future meeting was whether a consolidated school, with transport of children, was more desirable than a number of smaller schools. The chairman suggested that one of the school trustees should be asked to come and speak on this matter, putting both sides of the question impartially before the meeting. It was finally agreed that the matter should be put in the hands of Mr. Dewar and

Mr. Beckett, and that they should be left to determine the nature of the subject to be dealt with by the speaker.

FIRE INSURANCE RATES

Mr. Nix asked Mr. Stubbs what Saanich had done in the matter of lower fire rates, having regard to the fact that the city had applied for lower rates and been refused.

The matter had not come up before the Council, Mr. Stubbs replied.

Mr. McWilliams then asked the Council what money had been spent on Lake Road. "I am glad you asked that question," said Mr. Stubbs, "because I wish to make myself very clear on this matter. As $26 had been spent out of ward funds. Seventeen hundred dollars was taken from the Local Improvement By-Law. The balance of one thousand dollars came out of general revenue."

TO IMPROVE ROAD

A motion was then put forward by Mr. Warnock and seconded by Mr. Nix, that as it seemed that improving the old B.C.E.R. right-of-way, Mr. Stubbs should be requested to go over the ground in question and Oldfield, with a view to getting the B.C.E.R. right-of-way from Burnside to Goward Station completed. This motion was put to the vote and carried.

Mr. McWilliams asked Mr. Stubbs if he would favor the erection of a light at the corner of Burnside and Marigold Roads. The Councilor agreed that a light was desirable and said that he would look into the matter.

"The association will hold its next monthly meeting at Strawberry Vale Hall, when the question of change of meeting place for the future will be discussed, among other business."

RECENT BOND SALE EXPLAINED

Minister Says Best Advice Was Taken With Regard to Marketing of Bonds

"In taking the course we did in accepting the offer of the late sale of debentures of the province, we were acting on the best financial advice available in London, the United States and Canada," said Hon. W. S. J. Tolmie, Minister of Finance last evening.

"The records in the treasury show," said Mr. Tolmie, "that the last loan of the late Government was not at 4 1/2 basis, but at 500 basis. Part of the loan that was floated by the present Government at 4 1/2 was required to take up that which the late Government floated at 500 basis."

The minister went on to say that three of the latest loans of the Government of Dr. MacLean, including these at 4 1/2 and 500, were floated by private sale, a principle which the former Premier is now so strongly opposed.

"Letters were written to Dr. MacLean indicating the trend of the money market, and he was advised to call on Hon. S. F. Tolmie, who was awaiting the vacating of office by the old Government, with the object of trying to meet the situation that presented itself," said the Minister of Finance. "This Dr. MacLean did not do," he added.

"Dr. Tolmie had been advised also in the matter, and was prepared to consider the whole situation as it then was in order to effect a saving to the people of British Columbia."

"The reluctance on the part of Dr. MacLean to act as advised in this matter has cost the people of the province $469,800," Mr. Shelly charged.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

ARTHRITIS DEFORMANS

In this disease a pain of the joints is the first symptom. It may be either an acute or chronic form. In the acute type there is some fever, and the joints are swollen and sore to the touch. The finger joints are most often affected, the spine next, and the knees third, although any joint in the body may be attacked.

The joints become swollen because of a thickening of the capsule of the joint and the surrounding tissues. Gradually there is a bony enlargement producing great deformity. This is accompanied by an atrophying and wasting of the muscles. Extreme cases are pitiful as the patient becomes helpless, with his legs and arms drawn up and fixed, unable to walk. This disease occurs most frequently between the ages of twenty-five and fifty, although it may occur in children and the extremely aged.

Arthritis is considered a secondary infection to some other part, possibly the sinuses, nasal passages, pyorrhea, bronchitis, gonorrhea, prostaticitis, inflammation of the middle ear, tonsillitis, pelvic diseases, and infections of the intestinal and bile tracts. Meat is not the cause of this disorder as many people suppose.

Arthritis patients seem to be unable to handle the ordinary amount of carbohydrate foods. The toxins in the blood stream seem to originate from the fermentation of the sugars and starches in the intestinal tract. Many patients suffer severe pain after using these in their diet. OTTAWA CLAIMS RIGHT COVERS INLAND RIVERS

Public Right of Navigation and Federal Authority Not Confined to Tidal Waters, Counsel Argues

SUPREME COURT HEARS ARGUMENT

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—The Dominion Parliament has authority to declare the existence of a public right of navigation over any river navigable in fact. Before the Supreme Court of Canada this afternoon, Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., counsel for the Dominion, made this further contention on the question of federal and provincial control respecting navigation and water powers.

"If a public right to navigation does not exist, as Ontario suggests," Mr. Rowell proceeded, "the Great Lakes and the western portion of the St. Lawrence, then under the British North America Act, and the powers of the Dominion in regard to navigation and shipping, the Dominion must have power to take action in the interests of having a national highway for trade and commerce in Canada. Mr. Rowell contended that the Dominion has absolute control over navigation and shipping."

Discussion arose on the form of the first question in the reference as to whether the title of a province as to a river navigable in fact, was subordinate to the public right of navigation.

ISSUE DEFINED

"If we simply say in answer that there is a public right of navigation over navigable rivers we have not decided any question in dispute," interjected Mr. Justice Lacombe, "presume it is recognized that there is a public right of navigation over tidal waters."

Mr. Justice Newcombe interrupted to ask whether counsel for the Dominion desired to incorporate in the question the names of the rivers over which it was desired to have a decision, whether they were subject to a public right of navigation.

"No, my lord, we do not," replied Mr. Rowell. "The dispute between the Dominion and the Province of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia is that they say this public navigable right is limited to tidal waters. We say it is not limited to tidal waters."

OF NATIONAL INTEREST

This afternoon the question whether the Dominion Parliament had authority to declare the existence of a public right of navigation over any river navigable in fact occupied the attention of the court.

"The public right of navigation over navigable waters is a right of the public in general and in no way special to the inhabitants of any one province," Mr. Rowell argued. "The creation of such a right over a navigable river, if it did not already exist, was a matter not merely of local interest but of national interest and importance."

ANOTHER BOY HELD BY NORTHCOIT IS FOUND BY DEPUTY SHERIFF

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Oct. 2.—Discovery of a boy who had been held prisoner a few days at the chicken ranch of Gordon Stewart Northcott, who is charged with murdering four boys, and who escaped after being mistreated, was reported today by Deputy Sheriff Ben De Crevecoeur.

The deputy, who said he located the youth after two days of secret investigation, declined to reveal the boy's identity, but declared he would have a statement of his imprisonment within twenty-four hours.

The officer indicated he expected the statement to contain testimony of great value on the criminal charges brought against young Northcott.

Expected Here—Hon. H. M. Marler, former member of the House of Commons for the St. George-St. Lawrence division of Montreal, has arrived on the Coast, accompanied by Mrs. Marler.

Native Plant Garden—The native plant garden proposed at Beacon Hill Park, as illustrative of the flora of British Columbia, will be sponsored by the Victoria Horticultural Society. It is announced.

Meeting Postponed—Owing to the fact that the Canadian Legion in Sidney was addressed by Lieut-Col. Foster last evening, the monthly meeting of the directorate of the North Saanich Service Club will be held this evening.

Dr. Sutherland Returns—Dr. W. H. Sutherland, former Minister of Public Works, who has been in the East since immediately following the late election, has arrived in Vancouver on his homeward trip. He is expected to reach here this morning.

On Visit Here—Mr. and Mrs. Gilton Jones, of North Vancouver, who have been visiting at the home of Hon. J. Hinchliffe for some time, have returned to the Mainland. Mrs. Hinchliffe is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

Cougar Shot—Mrs. J. Porter, of Otter Point, shot a cougar yesterday near her ranch. There had been two cougars killing and worrying the sheep. She was able to get only one of them, the other being frightened away by the report of the rifle.

Acquires Service—The Vancouver Victoria-Sidney bus service, operated by H. B. Olsen's Gray Line, it was announced yesterday by Mr. J. S. H. Matson. Taking over of this service gives the Vancouver Island Coach Lines control of all the transportation on the Saanich Peninsula.

Vancouver Winter Fair—The Vancouver Winter Fair, at which many island residents exhibit, has been set earlier this year, the dates being November 28, 29, 30, and December 1. It is understood the B.C. Potato Show will be held in conjunction with the exhibition, as was the case last year. An apple show will also be a feature of the fair.

Native Sons to Meet—The monthly meeting of the Native Sons of Canada will be held this evening in their hall on View Street at 8 o'clock. At 8:30 the meeting will be open to any friends of the members who wish to attend. The report of the delegates who attended the convention held last month at Regina will be read. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Visits Minister of Public Works—Mr. S. L. Squire, of Toronto, prominent in the Good Roads movement in the Dominion, was a caller at the Parliament Buildings yesterday. He had a prolonged conference with the Minister of Public Works, Hon. N. S. Loughheed, when the whole matter of roads was discussed in an informal way.

It was dinner time at the seaside boardhouse. "Well," said the brainy-looking boarder to his neighbor, "we have at last the representation of two widely-separated generations."

"How's that?" asked the other. "Why, the hen we have been trying to eat was in all probability the great-grandmother of this omelette."

New Hampshire ad.—"Wanted, cleaning, pressing and dyeing at home."

Reading which, a correspondent, signing himself "Alden," was charged with the following: "I trust the kindly fates will bless me. Where'er my steps may roam, I care not where you clean and press me. So I may die at home."

Women's Work and Institute Activities

Women's Clubs and Societies

Duncan W.M.S.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society was held in the United Church, Duncan, on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. George Owens presided and welcomed a number of the associate members of the organization who were present by special invitation. Mrs. C. R. Sing assisted in the opening devotional exercises. The treasurer, Mrs. R. A. Thorpe, reported $199 had been raised during the past nine months. Of this amount, Mrs. Anson, secretary of Christian Stewardship, stated that $107.56 had been contributed by the twenty-eight members who gave monthly by envelope. Three of the five members who had removed had paid their monthly subscriptions to the end of the year. An interesting letter on mission work in Bella Bella was read from Mrs. W. H. Gibson; also a letter of thanks from Mrs. Morrison for a token of remembrance sent her on her removal. Mrs. George Henderson read a paper on temperance and what W.M.S. members could do to help this work. Mrs. P. R. Dobson, secretary, reported thirty-seven visits made during the month to the sick and to strangers. Mrs. C. Van Norman, magazine secretary, stated that she had received fifty-one subscriptions to the Missionary Monthly. Mrs. Owens expressed appreciation of the work being done by the departmental secretaries, and the regret felt by all at the removal of Miss Broadbent, who, as leader of the C.G.I.T. group of the church, was a member of the W.M.S. executive. Miss May Buckmaster gave a most encouraging report of the work of the Mission Band. Mrs. W. J. Curry explained the associate helpers' department and emphasized the assistance they rendered to the organization. Arrangements will be made by a committee for special meetings in November, when the work of the W.M.S. will be presented to the congregation. At the close of the meeting, adjournment was made to the church parlors, where tea was served by the associate helpers' secretary, Mrs. J. Highgate, assisted by several members. There was a good attendance, some forty-four ladies being present.

Centennial Auxiliary

Centennial United Church Women's Missionary Auxiliary held its annual Autumn thank offering meeting on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. W. Alton, Blackwood Street. A most interesting and instructive address on mission work in India was given by Mrs. Pratt, who spent twenty-six years in that country, working under the English Wesleyan Mission Board. The supply secretary, Mrs. Hatch, reported that the full supply allocation had been forwarded and a number of gifts suitable for Christmas were received and will be sent on to needy stations. Solos were beautifully rendered during the afternoon by Mesdames John Prisk and Stanley Patrick. The thank offering amounted to $91. The society will have no difficulty in meeting its financial obligation by the end of the year, it was said. Much credit for the success of this organization is due to the untiring efforts of its president, Mrs. S. Howard.

Harriet Road Tea

A very pleasant and successful tea was held at Heston Lodge, Harriet Road, the home of Mrs. E. T. Hodgkinson, on Tuesday afternoon, in aid of St. Mark's Church. Among the many ladies who attended were several from the cathedral parish. During the afternoon Mrs. Blowers favored the meeting with a very interesting and admirably delivered recitation, which won the hearty approval of all. Mrs. Lasenby poured the coffee and Miss Dean the tea. A number of those present also took part in a game of clock golf.

Daughters of St. George

At the Foresters' Hall, Nanaimo, on Tuesday evening, the Daughters of St. George held a meeting. Arrangements were made to hold its annual bazaar in November, the date to be announced later. After a busy session a very interesting presentation took place. The president, Sister E. Bain, presented a gold membership pin to Sister Minto, chaplain to the order, who will leave shortly to reside in Cumberland.

Catholic Women's League

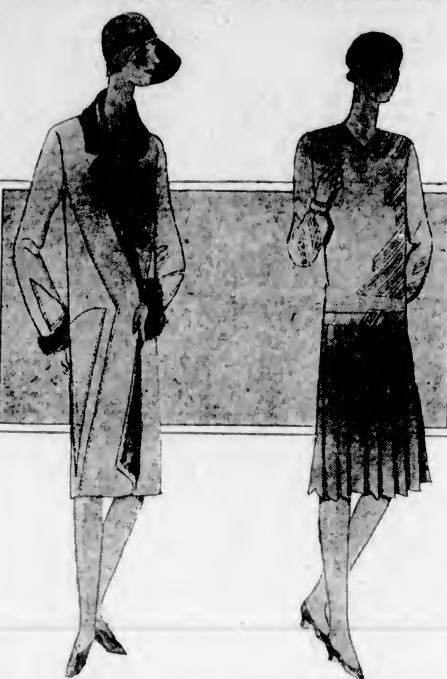

The Victoria subdivision of the Catholic Women's League will hold a bridge and live hundred party tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Harper, Princess Avenue. Mrs. P. Corcoran, 1235 Fairfield Road, Players are asked to bring their own cards and score cards.

Discuss Season

Discussion of Fall and Winter activities occupied an important part of the Rockland Park W.C.T.U. meeting held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Harper, Princess Avenue. When Mrs. Burton's report of the recent Chilliwack convention was given. The society is arranging for the registration of all Sunday schools entering the W.C.T.U. prize educational competition, the mailing list for which must be in by the last of October. The first "Lesson Article" will appear for distribution on November 18. Following the business part of the proceedings, tea was served. Mrs. Harper, assisted by her daughter and Mrs. Tuck, serving.

The Ministering Circle of the King's Daughters will hold their regular meeting on Friday at 8 p.m., in the rest room, Hibben-Bone Building.

Sportswear Shows Detail

In selecting your frocks for Fall and Winter, it is wise to bear in mind your coat. Very likely you have decided just what you want by this advanced date, and know the color, lines, trimming, price and even the shop where it may be secured.

Since your Fall or Winter coat is so important and usually the most expensive item in your wardrobe, there is but one road to chic: you must select frocks that will either match or harmonize with it. What matters it if a "perfectly stunning frock, my dear," is only $22.50 at a sale when the frock will play your coat, shoes, hat and bag and possibly your complexion at a single wearing?

Having had to struggle all our lives against a weakness for bargains—believe us, it amounts to a positive vice and costs us millions in nervous breakdowns, after-purchase pangs and cosmetics—we know it is difficult to turn our backs upon something that is a splendid value. But before making the purchase, consider what the ultimate price will be, and we feel sure that no matter how reluctantly, you will eventually turn away with your money intact and your color scheme inviolate.

Illustrated is a beige tweed coat from Jane Regny which can be worn as you know, with any number of colors. Since the coat is lined, the straight silhouette is chosen. Nutria is selected for the lining and is used for the revers and cuffs. Incrustations suggest a modernistic design.

The frock is of almond green crepe and would harmonize very nicely with the coat illustrated. Jane Regny is also the creator of this model, with its unique design in pin tucking. Puffed sleeves are an unusual note in sportswear and are finished with a narrow row of tucks. Skilful placing of the tucks on the skirt simulate a slanting line. The graceful skirt has pleats all going in the same direction. Buckle and belt of leather are in the same color as the frock.

night, and what a gay rollicking time the patrons of the funhouse are going to have. Interest in the ball is very keen, as evidenced by the brisk demand for tickets.

The Victoria Press Club has gained an enviable reputation as a host, and energetic committees of the organization give the assurance that nothing that will contribute to the gaiety of the occasion and the enjoyment of the guests has been overlooked.

The revel will commence at 9 p.m., and continue until 2 a.m., with the music, the very latest in dance compositions, furnished by an eight-piece orchestra directed by one of Victoria's best musical leaders. The ball is being held under the patronage of Premier S. F. Tolmie and Mrs. Tolmie, Mayor J. C. Penney and Mrs. Penney, and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Coleman, Mr. Coleman, who is a vice-president of the Western Lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is an honorary member of the club.

Those features which will be introduced during the evening will be vocal solos by Mr. Bruce Hamilton, dramatic tenor; fascinating dances by Miss Dulce Hamlet, dancer de luxe, and a lively characterization of the famed "Varsity Rag" dance by little Georgina Dowdall.

The effective decorations and novel lighting effects will add to the carnival spirit of the occasion, while the supper arrangements are being supervised by an able committee.

Tickets are going fast, and those intending patronizing the function are advised to secure their reservations without delay.

Join the merry-makers at the Press Club Ball tomorrow night.

The program of ice tickling dances will be as follows:

1—Waltz, "Little Mother."
2—Fox trot, "Who Wouldn't Be Blue?"
3—Fox trot, "Without You, Sweetheart."
4—Waltz, "Girl of My Dreams."
5—Fox trot, "Constantinople."
6—Fox trot, "Dream House."
7—Waltz, "Desert Song."
8—Fox trot, "That's My Mammy."
9—Fox trot, "Felix the Cat."
10—Waltz, "Rosemary."
Three supper extras:
11—Fox trot, "Dolores" and "That's My Weakness Now."
12—Waltz, "Ramona."
13—Fox trot, "Having My Ups and Downs."
14—Fox trot, "Skadin' Dee."
15—Waltz, "Jennine."
16—Fox trot, "If I Can't Have You."
17—Fox trot, "Rag Doll."
18—Waltz, "Little Irish Rose."
19—Fox trot, "Stay Out of the South."
20—Waltz, "Chiquita."

Coats and Dresses Shown

Fur of All Kinds Used in Trimming Season's Fashionable Coats—Simplicity Marks Evening Frocks

Very simple dresses and coats have just been exhibited by Madeleine Vionnet, says a Paris correspondent of The London Times. The evening dresses are of plain velvet in black and in pale colors. Winter coats are made of plain duvety cloth and trimmed with fur, and coats and skirts of the same plain cloth, brown or black, are trimmed with astrakhan. On white georgette dresses slender lines of diamonds are traced about the hips. Black silk muslin dresses are covered with little petals of muslin finely sewn by hand, and black satin dresses are also marvels of sewing and drapery. Skirts are short and slim except for the evening, when they are made of long, uneven panels and draperies so set as to give slender lines. Necks of afternoon dresses are crooked and carefully draped with scarves tied into soft bows. Coats are cut straight and slim, and a deep fold-over in front drapes itself naturally at the side.

Caracul, astrakhan, fox and lynx are the furs which mostly trim cloth and light tweed coats; rich, expensive furs—mink, grey squirrel, and ermine—are for coats. Brown astrakhan makes a good trimming for beige and light brown cloth. On one coat, for example, grey triangular pieces of fur drape the front and cover the chest and the lower part of the coat at the back. It is in the cut of her clothes that Madeleine Vionnet shows her genius most. The simplest-looking dress of hers is cut too subtly for imitation.

Winter coats are made of bright sapphire blue duvety cloth trimmed heavily with grey astrakhan, lynx and grey fox. The collars are high and full, the cuffs deep and the hems wide. Light beige and brown tweeds, grey Angora jersey, and plain jersey in brown and black are used for coats and skirts. A brown cloth coat and skirt with a belt and collar and cuffs of brown astrakhan looks well; so does a black duvety cloth with black astrakhan and a full basque, full-edged. A blue and white ensemble is of Angora jersey and tweed and is trimmed with white caracul fur. Under warm cloth or fur coats are worn black satin frocks of simple line, with bows and ends at the shoulder and narrow sashes at the side or in front. Some of these dresses are tucked and stitched in intricate patterns. The fashion of sober-colored dresses is sometimes broken by a red ensemble, but black, black and grey, beige, and blue will be worn by those who follow French fashions closely.

Black velvet evening dresses are cut with pointed neck openings and flowing skirts slit over a short, slim foundation. They have no trimmings, except one jeweled ornament. Evening frocks are made of pale green and pale yellow velvet, and are worn with ermine cloaks or black velvet cloaks trimmed with ermine. There are also white evening dresses; white georgette is lightly trimmed and white velvet is left without trimming; both are extremely simple. No taffeta, tulle or lace dresses are shown in this exhibition, and only a few printed velvet afternoon dresses.

At Le Touquet some of the new sport ensembles are now to be seen. Pale grey, or white and black, or pale pink and black, or blue and white Angora jersey makes a skirt and jumper with a crossover line in front; the skirt has a bunch of pleats on one side. Long sleeves and a shallow pointed neck allow a sleeveless cardigan of plain jersey to be worn over it.

The newest felt hats fit heads at the back like Dutch bonnets and have flexible brims across the brow and over the ears. They are trimmed with grosgrain ribbon, the bow ends being tipped with a bright color. Small hats are made necessary by high collars. Perhaps in the Winter hats may be trimmed with fur. Shoes sometimes match dresses in color, but well-cut black Court shoes of patent leather with good buckles and no trimmings are generally better. For the evening there are hand-painted shoes—black suede painted with gold or silver, expensive and gold kid with colored flowers or geometrical figures; but shoes covered with sparkling stones are not in fashion.

The alleged uneasiness in Europe is largely due to too much rattling of the olive branch.

Johnny Chuck Joins Jerry

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Johnny Chuck knew all about the carrots growing down in a part of Farmer Brown's cornfield. He had been there more than once. On this particular morning he had a hankering for a taste of carrots, and finally he decided that he would go over to the field. Now Johnny lives where the flooding of the Meadows does not affect him. The great rain had made no particular difference to Johnny Chuck, save that it had made wet ground. So, after sitting up for a moment or two and looking at the flooded Green Meadows, Johnny gave the matter no more thought.

Johnny had almost reached the edge of the carrot patch when he was startled to discover that the patch already had a visitor. Digging up a carrot right in front of him was someone else in a brown coat. Johnny gave a little whistle of surprise and sat up to look at it. At the same time he saw a shadowy figure round that whistle Jerry Muskrat looked up quickly. When he saw who it was he resumed his digging. He knew that Johnny Chuck would not bother him.

"My goodness, it's Jerry Muskrat!" exclaimed Johnny Chuck. "What are you doing so far from the Smiling Pool?"

"There isn't any Smiling Pool this morning. We are getting something to eat," replied Jerry rather shortly. "I suppose," said Johnny, "that is Mrs. Muskrat over yonder."

"Your supposition is quite correct," replied Jerry. "My, but these carrots are good! I was half starved. Johnny Chuck, Johnny Chuck, come over nearer to Jerry and began to dig up a carrot. "It was a bad rain, wasn't it?" said Johnny.

"The worst I've ever known at this time of the year," replied Jerry. "Did you get flooded out?"

"No," replied Johnny. "Did you?" Then Jerry told Johnny Chuck what had happened. "My, my," said Johnny Chuck sympathetically, "that is too bad! That certainly is too bad. So that is why you are awfully hungry."

"That is why," agreed Jerry. "You see, down there all our food is under water. We just had to go somewhere to get something to eat."

"My goodness! It's Jerry Muskrat!" exclaimed Johnny Chuck.

"You've come to a good place," replied Johnny. "I come here often. These carrots are very sweet. I like carrots for a change once in a while. You should have come here earlier in the season. There were some nice beans here. Bean tops are very nice eating."

"Aren't you afraid of Reddy Fox?" inquired Jerry Muskrat.

"Oh, I keep a sharp eye out for him," replied Johnny Chuck. "I'm not really much afraid of him. You see, I've grown so big and strong that I guess Reddy would have to be pretty hungry to risk a fight with me. But I should think you would be afraid of him."

"I would be if I should meet him," replied Jerry frankly. "I can fight pretty well myself, but I'm afraid Reddy would be a little too much for me."

"Speaking of Reddy, here he comes now!" exclaimed Johnny Chuck, who had been sitting up looking about.

POP-OVERS

1 egg; 1 cup Borden's St. Charles Milk; 2 cups flour; 1/2 small tspn. salt; 1 cup water.

Beat the eggs ten minutes and then add the milk. Gradually add the flour, sifted, and the salt. Beat until absolutely smooth. Turn into hot, well-oiled gem pans and bake quickly.

LEMON MERINGUE PIE

3/4 cup Borden's St. Charles Milk; 3/4 cup hot water; 1/4 cups sugar; 4 1/2 tblspns. corn starch; 1 tspn. butter; 2 eggs; Juice 2 lemons; grated rind 1 lemon; few grains salt; 1 cooked pastry shell.

Combine the milk and water in a double boiler top, add the sugar and cornstarch, thoroughly mixed together, and cook fifteen minutes, stirring occasionally. Separate the eggs, beat the yolks light, combine them with a little of the hot milk, stir into the thickened mixture and cook five minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Then add the salt and when somewhat cooled stir in the lemon juice and rind, pour into the pastry shell, heap with a meringue made of two egg whites, and a third cup tips. Bring to boiling point, and simmer five minutes. A Combine beaten egg yolk with the remaining milk and add a dash of paprika over top.

Tea at Nanaimo

A tea was held at the home of Mrs. Van Houten yesterday afternoon, and proved a success, socially and financially. The rooms were very prettily decorated with mauve and pink asters and the tea table was lovely with centre vases of rich golden marigolds. A musical programme was very much enjoyed by all. Those who took part were: Mrs. W. Gray, Miss Dorothy Crawford, Miss Noma Black and Master Laurence Matthews. Mrs. Newman acted as accompanist. Those who assisted at the tea were: Mrs. A. E. Plantia and Mrs. J. Perkins, who poured tea during the first hour. Mrs. Clements and Mrs. G. A. B. Hall the second. There was also a sale of home cooking, which was a financial success.

At Buena Vista Hotel

Recent guests at the Buena Vista Hotel, Cowichan Bay, were: Mr. and Mrs. Cowley, Mr. W. Turner, Mr. M. G. Gill, Miss F. L. Wright, Mr. J. C. Anthony, Mr. J. M. Gibson, Mr. J. S. Braidwood, Mr. R. Burns, Miss Meredith, Major R. S. Engleue, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Jackson, Mr. T. D. H. Hodgins, Mr. R. S. Laird, Vancouver; Captain W. G. Colquhoun, Mrs. W.

Guest Tea Is Enjoyed by Members

The Alexandra clubroom presented a charming appearance yesterday afternoon with beautiful autumn flowers and foliage presented and arranged by Mrs. Puckie and Mrs. Stewart in honor of the guest of the club, Mrs. R. B. McKicking, who was welcomed by her many friends, and presented with a bouquet of flowers by Mrs. Alice Thompson, first vice-president. Mrs. C. de V. Schofield gave a talk on the Kellogg pact, outlining the gradual moulding of public opinion in the United States by means of articles in the press and magazines, and educational talks, which had resulted in the pact—the biggest step yet taken for stabilizing the peace of the world.

At the conclusion Mrs. Thompson expressed the thanks of all present to Mrs. Schofield. After the presentation of an exquisite bouquet of roses by Mrs. William Grant, Mrs. McKicking expressed her thanks for the gifts and the honor done to her, after which tea was served under the convenership of Miss Donald, who was assisted by Mrs. Hunt, Miss Marjorie Puckie, and Miss Sheila Stewart. Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Puckie pouring tea. At the guest table with Mrs. Thomson and Mrs. R. B. McKicking were Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mrs. C. de V. Donations Received
The president, Mrs. W. L. Clay presided at a well attended monthly meeting of the Aged and Infirm Women's Home Committee held at the home on Tuesday afternoon. Routine business was at first considered after which reports received from the visiting committee showed that the health of all inmates at present was fairly good for aged people. One sudden death took place there recently, that of Mrs. Young, who came to the home from the Prairies. She was nearing ninety years of age. The visiting committee for October comprises Mrs. Sabiston, convener, with Mrs. Leiser and Mrs. Heddie.

The following donations were thankfully received during September: Mr. D. Fraser, box of apples; Captain Gould, three boxes apples; Lady McBride, crab apples; Mrs. Peters, box of apples; Mrs. Shotbolt, fish; Mr. McKen, magazines; friends, magazines; St. Mary's Church, Saanichton fruit, vegetables and flowers; Victoria Floral Co., Corner Flower Shop, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Grant, Mr. Strayford and Mr. Hughes, flowers, fruit and vegetables from Metropolitan Church, Gamie Warden, venison, Mr. Jackson, magazines.

What were last year's "travel coats" still practical and smart this year. And may still be called by the same name.
These generally come in tweeds, either colored with fur, or plain. Of course, there are many novelty woollens that are used, and these are always smartly unusual.

In the illustration is a tweed coat, colored with badger. A coat like this is practical for sports as well as travel, and is ideal for the college girl.

Fashion Fancies

Noted French Stylist on Visit to Canada

Mlle. Marceline d'Alroy
"Every woman cannot look beautiful on the street, but, ah! every woman can look beautiful in her own home surrounded by beauty and charm," declares Mlle. Marceline d'Alroy, famous French stylist, now visiting Canada, who urges women to develop the "friendly" touch in arranging interiors. The first thing to do in furnishing a room is the same as in bridge, to discard, she says.

Chapter to Hold Fashion Display

Under the auspices of Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E., an Autumn Fashion show is to be held at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday, October 17, from 3 till 6 o'clock. Mrs. J. E. Umbach is general convener of the affair and a number of members of the younger social set will act as mannequins. These include Misses Marjorie Oates, Phyllis Barton, Mary Martin, Margaret Homer, David Spence Ltd., Scourby's Ltd., Dorothy Winder, Cathcart's Shoe Store, Miss Livingstone and Foster's Ltd.

Those wishing to reserve tables for the show may apply for tickets at Fletcher Brothers' music store on October 6 to 10, and tables will be allotted strictly in the order in which the applications are received.

Shower to Be Held at Aged Women's Home

Arrangements are being made by the management committee of the Aged and Infirm Women's Home for a book shower and tea, which they intend holding at the home on Thursday afternoon, October 11.

The shower was endorsed by the co-operation of all the Island institutions in assisting them to get adequate transportation service to the Island. The shower was endorsed by the co-operation of all the Island institutions in assisting them to get adequate transportation service to the Island.

Mrs. G. S. Edwards and Mr. F. H. Mitchell are the week-end at the Cowichan Bay Inn.

Mrs. John Peck sold her house and property at Tallow to Mr. Allan Calvert, and the family expect to move in shortly.

Mrs. F. H. Mitchell left on Monday to return to her home in Los Angeles.

Plan Activities
The winter's activities formed the subject of lengthy discussion at a meeting of the Queen Alexandra Revue, held at the home of Mrs. W. Creighton. One of the earliest fixtures decided upon was a Halloween dance, which will take place on Monday, October 15, in the K. of C. Hall. The annual banquet will be held in the near future and a sale of work is being planned for the latter part of November. During the evening a silver basket and a handsome bouquet were presented by the dance, which will take place on Monday, October 15, in the K. of C. Hall. "The Patsy," Marion Davies' Newest Starring Film, Declared Irresistibly Entertaining

That screen comedy can be no better than the newness and originality of its comedy situations is one of the maxims of all motion picture directors.

If this is true, and the reaction of great audiences has proved that it is, then Marion Davies' new starring vehicle, "The Patsy," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre, should establish a precedent as the 100 per cent comedy of the 1928 season, for no picture can provide so many startlingly comic situations.

The story is replete with natural comedy, directed by King Vidor with no answer to this extraordinary request, wrote again in indignant terms. "I am surprised," the letter ran, "that you have not answered my application for a loan. It has been a cruel disappointment to my fiancée, as without the money we cannot get married. 'Between Ourselves' is an entirely British show—scenery, players, skits, sketches and ideas. Miss Marie Blanche again plays a violin beautifully in one of her appearances. Mr. Robey boasts that this is included in the all-British claim. 'I know,' he says, 'for I made it myself.'" had follow-up letters that are amazing. Some time ago a man wrote asking for $2000, and receiving no answer to this extraordinary request, wrote again in indignant terms. "I am surprised," the letter ran, "that you have not answered my application for a loan. It has been a cruel disappointment to my fiancée, as without the money we cannot get married. 'Between Ourselves' is an entirely British show—scenery, players, skits, sketches and ideas. Miss Marie Blanche again plays a violin beautifully in one of her appearances. Mr. Robey boasts that this is included in the all-British claim. 'I know,' he says, 'for I made it myself.'"

PLAYHOUSE Charlie Murray and Louise Fazenda are now showing at the Playhouse Theatre in the special comedy, "Vamping Venus." "Vamping Venus" is the story of a New York politician and his nagging wife. The political leader is knocked out by a jealous rival and takes a trip to Dreamland, imagining he is in ancient Greece, where he soon becomes political dictator.

LOST FLYER FILM IS REVOLUTIONARY

"The Strange Case of Captain Ramper" Showing at Capitol, Sets New Mark

The showing of "The Strange Case of Captain Ramper," the first production of the DeLu Company, of Berlin, the German producing unit of First National, opens today at the Capitol Theatre. Dealing with a theme that has never before been portrayed on the screen, one that is new to audiences and producers alike, the picture promises to assume an important place among films that have paved the way for the new and revolutionary type of motion picture projection. Breaking away from the traditional portrayal of love themes and the usual happy ending, Max Reichmann, the director, is said to have risen to the prime rank of German film directors with this picture. The love element is there, and the story is one of extremely human reactions to events, yet its treatment is unusual, original and of a type rarely seen on the screen. The scenes move from the beautiful Norwegian waters to the desolate wastes of the Arctic, from the loneliness of an ice-bound whaling vessel to the kaleidoscope of the pleasure-hunting life in milling cities. The changes are rapid, sudden, yet the whole of the picture presents one unity, for Reichmann ingeniously balances the ramifications of civilized living with the simple cleanliness of primitive life.

On the stage for the balance of this week are Jackie Souders, the well-known orchestra conductor and M.C. Murray and Harris, the singing comedians from radio station KJR, Seattle, and Kohler and Quist, the dance team supreme. Harold Bechtel, along with the Capitol Orchestra, will feature a new programme of specialties.

IT TAKES ALL-BRAN TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

More and more people are eating bran for "health's sake" these days. And it's a fine thing. But not everybody realizes what a difference there is in so-called "brans." Doctors say it takes 100% bran to supply enough roughage to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only be partly effective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities—and in the most effective form: cooked and krumbled. It does a work part-bran products cannot hope to equal. Two tablespoons daily—chronic cases, with every meal—are guaranteed to relieve constipation.

Serve ALL-BRAN often. With milk or cream—fruits or honey added. In the red-and-green package. Use it in cooking. Sprinkle into soups. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

South is the dealer. What is the proper bidding and play?

In the next issue Mr. Whitehead will explain the salient points in the bidding and play of the above hand. Fill out your own chart and compare it with his method.

These hands must not be bid or played "Double Dummy," i.e., as though all four hands were exposed.

Note—In recording the Auction, or the play, use "S" for Spades, "H" for Hearts, "D" for Diamonds, and "C" for Clubs. Use "NT" for No Trump, "DBL" for double, "REDBL" for redouble.

HAND No. 255

North	South
♠ AK85 ♥ Q974 ♦ QKQ10 ♣ AKJ85	♠ A74 ♥ CAKJ2 ♦ A9862 ♣ AK74

South's high-card values and their distribution call for a No Trump bid. West, also holding a No Trump hand, doubles to obtain his partner's best bid, his hand warranting a bid of two No Trumps. His partner responds with Spades. His partner's responding West denies Spade support by bidding two No Trumps. East takes out with three Spades, holding considerably better than a forced Spade bid.

Salient Points of the Play
Trick 2.—Declarer, fairly assured of five side tricks in view of South's No Trump bid, must make also an equal number in trumps. He therefore prepares to finesse trumps twice to capture the King or Queen, should either be in North's hand.
Trick 4.—Despite his holding of but two Hearts, Declarer finesesses the Jack, since three tricks in Hearts are needed for game.
Trick 5.—The second trump finesse winning, game is assured provided South, as presumable from his No Trump bid, holds the King of Clubs.

LIQUOR CASE IS DISMISSED

WITHDRAWS COURT CHARGE AGAINST ELIZABETH
ALEXANDER

Prosecutor Says He Will Not Rely on Evidence Gained Dishonorably by "Stool Pigeons"

The charge against Elizabeth Alexander of keeping liquor for sale on the night of September 27 at the Chanticleer Inn, Island Highway, was withdrawn by Crown Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison in the provincial police court here yesterday.

Mr. Harrison told the court the Alexander case was in the same position as other cases against alleged violators of the Government Liquor Act in the provincial court on Monday.

"I would have to rely upon the evidence of the stool pigeons, Edwards and Griffiths, and in view of their actions I cannot do that. I cannot and will not countenance evidence gained dishonorably," the prosecutor stated.

Mr. Harrison said he regretted to have to withdraw the charges against the accused, but it was the only course he could pursue. He asked the magistrate to strike out the case.

"The charge is dismissed," His Honor declared.

James Painter pleaded guilty to being in possession of a fur-bearing animal, a racoon, during a closed season, and was fined $15.

Harvest Festival

A harvest festival in aid of deep sea sailors was held at the Connaught Seamen's Institute last Sunday morning. The children of the James Bay Branch of Christ Church Cathedral Sunday School contributed their gifts to the institute after they had been blessed during the service. This is the second year that the children have donated their fruits, flowers and preserves to the deep sea sailors. Few deep sea vessels (freight) leave the Port of Victoria whose captains or crews have not received some small gift from the same source.

The institute wishes to thank those who have sent men's castoff clothing for distressed sailors who come to port without proper shore clothing. The superintendent would be pleased to have her supply replenished for the winter.

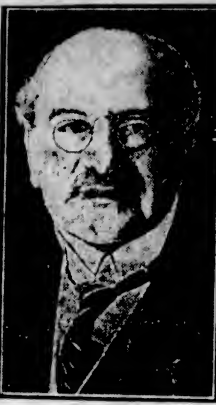

Rev. E. W. P. Carter conducted the children's service, assisted by the local superintendent of the James Bay Sunday School, Captain Walter Brown.

The children are reminded of the Sunday School Union rally at 5 o'clock Friday, to be followed by tea in the Memorial Hall, Vancouver Street.

Magistrate Jay Reserves Judgment in Case of James Hillson, Arraigned on Fraud Count

Magistrate George Jay yesterday in the city police court reserved judgment until Friday morning in the case of James Hillson, who was charged with by false pretences and intent to defraud obtaining $85 from David Spenser, Limited, contrary to the Criminal Code. The accused elected summary trial before His Honor and pleaded not guilty. Through counsel, Mr. Richard C. Lowe, after the evidence had been submitted, the magistrate said he wished to consider the matter, and would render his decision tomorrow.

Twenty-one Chinese were each fined $5 for being inmates of a common gaming house located in a set of rooms over 557 Fisgard Street. The accused, who were taken into custody by Sergeant Thomas Heatley and Constable George Porter, pleaded guilty to the charges through counsel, Mr. W. C. Moresby, K.C.

Archie Kesson, Chan Sam and Lee Kong each paid the court a fine of $5 for failing to bring their motor cars to a full stop upon entering arterial highways in the city.

William Durrell and Lee Kong were each fined $5 for failing to produce their drivers' licences upon the demand of police officers.

Crashes Into Car; Sleeping Man Hurt

MERRITT, Oct. 3.—Four hundred yards of rock and mud swept down from the mountain at Romeo Sliding and crashed through a car in which several Kettle Valley Railway section men were sleeping. Arthur Currie sustained a compound fracture of the right leg, a possible fracture of the left leg and several cuts and contusions about the body. He was brought to the Nicola Valley Hospital here.

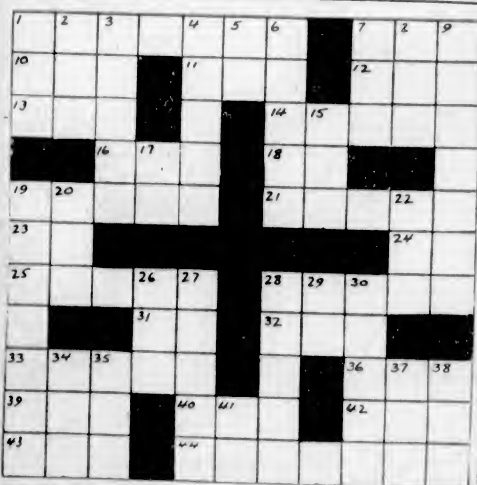

A heavy rain had loosened dirt on the mountainside, causing several slides which had necessitated the Kettle Valley trains detouring via Merritt. Romeo is a way station about midway between Brookmere and Hope, and about five miles from the Coquihalla Summit.

KINSMEN WILL STAGE FROLIC

Mr. Percy Williams, Famous Canadian Athlete, to Attend Fete at Crystal Garden Next Week

The Kinsmen Club, assisted by the Victoria Musicians' Union, will hold a frolic and dance next Wednesday night, in the Crystal Garden, commencing at 9 o'clock. A special programme of novelty numbers and entertainment turns has been arranged for the function.

One of the features of the evening will be the presence at the frolic of Mr. Percy Williams, of Vancouver, Canada's sprinter, who startled the sporting world recently by capturing the 100-metre and 200-metre races at the Olympic games at Amsterdam.

Mr. Williams will visit Victoria next Wednesday, under the auspices of the Kinsmen Club, and undoubtedly a large number of Victorians will attend the frolic at the Crystal Garden to see the great athlete who won such fame for Canada.

Dancing will be indulged in on the two ballroom floors, as well as on the banquet hall floor. Dance specialties will be introduced, and special orchestras will furnish toe-ticking music that undoubtedly will meet with approbation.

The pupils of the Russian School of Ballet Dancing and Miss Louise Fisher and Mr. Jay Pogson will render turns at the frolic.

The frolic is in aid of the Queen Alexandra Hospital, for Crippled Children, and generous patronage on the part of the citizens is anticipated.

MISS ANNIE STEWART BETTER, SAY DOCTORS

WOLFVILLE, N.S., Oct. 3.—The condition of Miss Annie Stewart, president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, was believed to be slightly better last night by authorities at the Wolfville Hospital, where Miss Stewart was taken after being severely injured on Saturday night in an automobile crash in which seventeen-year-old Paul McMahon, of Kentville, was killed.

"BARBERRY BUSH"

One Girl's Marriage Problems
By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"I don't know about other girls," she said, warming, "but I know do."

"Hate what?" he asked teasingly.

"Musing," Barbara answered seriously.

"Oh, is this musing?"

She jerked violently again—again at the firm grip of the iron fingers.

"I just would like to know why all the other girls in this town will let boys kiss them, and you won't," Link said.

A reluctant laugh, not entirely unlike a sob, broke from her.

"Barbara, how many boys have kissed you?"

"How many—I think you're very insulting. No boys, of course, except at Halloween parties, and under the mistletoe and all that!"

"I thought so," Link said, with a sort of gloomy triumph.

She had forgotten everything but her argument now, and despite the fact that his fingers still kept her in ignominious prison, she spoke with natural interest.

"Well, is it your idea that every boy in town shall kiss the—the girl shall kiss any of the girls you happen to like?"

Link was silent. He dropped his hands, and he and Barbara walked back into the darkness, toward the windows that were gushing light from the hall.

The first relieved feeling of getting safely back to her familiar footings was presently invaded by Barbara by an odd sense of anti-climax. If he wanted to kiss her, ask there in the park, why hadn't he done it? Was there something about her that not only didn't invite advances but that actually repelled them?

"You don't smoke, you don't drink, you don't make up, you don't let boys kiss you," Link summarized.

"Oh, I do make up!" She was almost defending the custom. That is, Amy and I use powder, when we feel like it, and she often says she'd use rouge, only it always blows on her so. I don't need it. I'd use it in a minute if I did, as for the other things, I don't do them because I don't like them."

"But Barbara, you ought to want to do them, and give them up because they aren't—well, quite nice." They were close to the hall now, and her laugh could ring out unafraid. Instantly the murmuring and laughing in more than one car, parked close by in the dark street, stopped as if by magic.

"That sort of thing, I mean!" Link persisted, jerking his head in the direction from which the amorous murmuring had come.

"What on earth," Barbara asked seriously, "has started you off on this track tonight? Are you so strong for petting parties and hip socks?"

"You know I'm not. I only feel that—that a girl can carry—"

"Prudishness," she supplied scornfully, as he groped for a word.

"Well, prudishness, then. Can carry it too far!"

"Link, what nonsense! You know very well that the mothers and fathers in the country have been perfectly agnostic at the way young people have been going on, at dances and roadhouses, and the way they've been running round in motor cars."

"I know it. Only—only you're so young and pretty, Barbara, to do with them."

Barbara pondered. Link was, after all, an important person in her world, and she was impressed by his stumbling and ineloquent earnestness.

"I have a good time," she offered presently in self-defence. "I don't mind around talking to the old ladies and dancing."

"I know you do—or don't, I mean all the fellows know that you don't stand for the slightest—"

"Liberty." She gave him his word again. "Well, is that so bad?"

"No, of course, it's not bad. But but things—like kissing do have their place, Barbara, you have to limit that?"

"When you're engaged—yes."

DIVORCE DISCUSSED AT CHAPTER MEETING

Ruridical Chapter in Session at St. Mary's Church, Bolestin Road

A meeting of the ruridical Chapter of Victoria was held in St. Mary's Parish Church, Bolestin Road, on Tuesday. The proceedings of the day began with a celebration of the holy communion at 10 a.m., after which the clergy retired to the parish hall for the business of the day. Rural Dean Chadwick was in the chair and twenty-two of the clergy were present. Several matters of importance in connection with the rural deanery were dealt with, after which a very thoughtful paper on "Divorce" was read by the Rural Dean. The subject of the paper promoted a good deal of constructive discussion in which every member present took part. The clergy were entertained for lunch in St. Mary's vicarage.

CAR DRIVER REMANDED

NORTH VANCOUVER, Oct. 3.—After hearing argument of counsel, Magistrate R. A. Sargent, in city police court today, remanded R. L. Mackay, charged with manslaughter, until Friday for decision.

The charge was laid by police following the death of L. Deane Wood, Jones, Vancouver barrister, who was fatally injured when struck by Mackay's automobile on Marine Drive. The accident occurred early on the morning of Sunday, September 16. Mackay has been at freedom on $5,000 bail.

The charge of driving to the common danger, laid against W. M. Henry in connection with the same case, has been withdrawn. Henry is held as a material witness.

J. R. DICKSON APPEAL

VANCOUVER, Oct. 3.—The court of appeal has dismissed the appeal of John R. Dickson, of Victoria, from his conviction by Magistrate Jay on a charge of assaulting Kwong Kee A. sentence of two months imposed by the magistrate stands.

"From my experience I venture to assert, Sir, that six drops only of Lee & Perrins in soups, on steaks, chops, fish or game, will give more appetizing flavors than a flood of ordinary condiments."

WORLD'S FOOTBALL SERIES OPENS TODAY

Hoyt Figures He Will Beat Sherdel in First Game of Series Today

Acc of Yank Pitching Staff, Confident of Victory in Opener Against Cardinals—Says Whole Yankee Team Optimistic

Waite Hoyt, the New York Yankees' brilliant pitcher, is writing exclusively for this newspaper the American League's end of the world series with the St. Louis Cardinals. His third story follows. He will write a story after each day's game.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Of the hundreds upon hundreds of thousands who will read about the world series in the papers or hear about it over the radio, and of the many thousands who will see the games, there will be none more thrilled than ourselves, the players.

Some thousands of dollars for a week's work, glory, pride, the chance to establish yourself as a member of the world championship club, there's a real kick for us.

But right now, with the series about to start, we are chiefly concerned with conjectures. The ball players have some ideas, which at times might seem strange, but never truer than at present.

Throughout all ball clubs a certain attitude prevails. I can speak unhesitatingly about the Yankees. From clubhouse gossip, shower bath conversations, locker palavers, I gather this.

We expect to turn the trick. We are not figuring on anything. For instance, I expect to win. I figure I can beat Sherdel. Why shouldn't I? I have lost many games. I might lose this one. But I do not expect to. There are no certainties in baseball. We do not predict that we are going to beat any one pitcher. Our object is to win four ball games.

Of course, we cannot accomplish this by talking about it. Base hits, bunched, mean runs, and wins in ball games. We are a run-making ball club, much more so than the Cardinals.

ONE-INNING BALL CLUB
The Yankees are essentially a one-inning ball club, meaning that we score most of our runs in one inning, be it the first or eighth. We operate on the theory that a winning ball club scores more runs in one inning than the loser does in the entire game.

The Huggins are hitting at present, a signpost on the road to the world championship. We of the Yankees really fear the games in St. Louis, not because that is the home of the Cardinals, but because of the playing field.

The infield there is hard as concrete, and as rough as a giant's swirled wall. A bouncing ball hit in front of the plate has been known to lead over the head of the third baseman. Any ball hit right hard, and not hit right at an infielder, is a sure single. The games in St. Louis will be wild and exciting. I look for big scores, with lots of errors.

Pitching is all-important. Experts mention Alexander, Sherdel and Haines, good pitchers all. In my opinion Clarence Mitchell will move the baseball world the most effective hurling for the Cards.

On our side Zachary will prove a puzzle. Zach has "stuff," approaching the Penneck type. His curve is not as big or as good, but he has had lots of experience, and he is a dead-end and crafty. He, you know, was the real star of the 1924 series, when he turned in two clever victories over the New York Giants.

Base-running may or may not feature the series. Last year the Yankees traveled to Pittsburgh expecting Paul and Lloyd, and Grantham and others to attempt to steal every time on base. But, as is often the case in these Fall classics, the Pittsburgh club was hit and threatened with any of their natural advantages.

WILL PLAY SAFE
Naturally, it is best to be on the safe side. Fitch, Wilson and Harper will be held close to the bag with that thought in mind.

(Say, I hope you fans don't start shouting "Play Ball" every time a pitcher throws a first base. Like it or not, you will get it just the same.)

There has been no formal meeting yet to discuss strategy and weakness of our opponents. But there will be one just before the game.

I know from past experience what will be said. First of all, Huggins will say, "Hoyt, you're pitching. Do you know these guys?"

(Well, I should, I've pitched against them and know that the entire St. Louis club, outside of Marvianne, are low-ball hitters. I am a high-ball pitcher, which is always a help in this case.)

Then Huggins will turn to Fletcher, who managed in the National League. "To freshen our minds about this club."

Fletcher will tell where certain hitters hit, whether they are fast or curve-ball hitters. Then we will run over our signals, following that, Huggins will speak on attitude, disposition, and the will to win. That is the most important of all.

Broadcast of Series to Start At 10:30 A.M.

THE broadcast of the world's baseball series which starts today at New York between the Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals, will start at 1:30 p.m. Eastern time and 10:30 a.m. Victoria time. Announcer McNamee, of the National Broadcasting Company, will be at the microphone at the Yankee Stadium, and will give every detail of the conflict. He will also give a brief introductory talk, describing the crowd and any highlights.

DUSTY MILLER TO FIGHT ON OCT. 10

Will Battle John McDermott in Six-Round Main Event—O'Connell Will Meet Keist

Dusty Miller, colored sensation of the Pacific Coast, has been signed by the Central Boxing Club to meet John McDermott, of Seattle, in a six-round bout at the Tillamook gymnasium next Wednesday. The Sound city boxer has defeated some of the best boys on the Coast, including Battling Slim, Young Jumbo Davies, and ga. Young Firpo and Pete Gerkhan.

Miller is now a resident of the Capital City and needs no introduction to the followers of the game. As his showing against Jimmy Lyle here some months ago was enough to convince the fans that he knows his stuff.

In the second headline bout, Tommy O'Connell, from Everett, Wash., will battle Tim Keist, Victoria's pugilistic idol. O'Connell fought here last week against Jumbo Davies, and the boys who saw him in action some idea as to his ability as a boxer. The Central Boxing Club is now busy lining up the remainder of the card, which promises to be of first class calibre.

BLANTON GOOD FIGHTER

I need not blanton by 2 up. I led at the close of the morning by a hole, but he cut it to two at the first in the afternoon. Then he played two bad sides and I won both holes to become four up. I thought, to be frank, that at this point he was all through and I could win as I pleased.

But from the fourth tee to the seventeenth green he made a real battle of it, and, with a card one under even fours for the distance he picked up all of the four holes and stood level with me at the seventeenth hole, the thirty-fifth of the match.

I want to give him full credit for playing great golf against me. I expected he would miss a shot every so often, but he didn't. He kept playing as if he were in his own back yard.

If more young golfers could maintain their composure as well as Blanton did over this stretch of testing holes, it would be a lot tougher on some of us older players. In my matches in the championship over a long period I have met few golfers who kept as good control of their nerves, and therefore their shots, as Blanton. He might just as well have beaten me as to have lost.

He missed a short putt for a three to get a half with me at the short thirty-fifth hole. This put him one down with one to go. After making the fight he did, to get level, it was a hard-won ground by missing a short putt at the next to last hole.

I won on the home green, two up, when he hooked his second into a trap, the first mistake he had made since the third hole of the afternoon round.

SARAZEN ON GAME

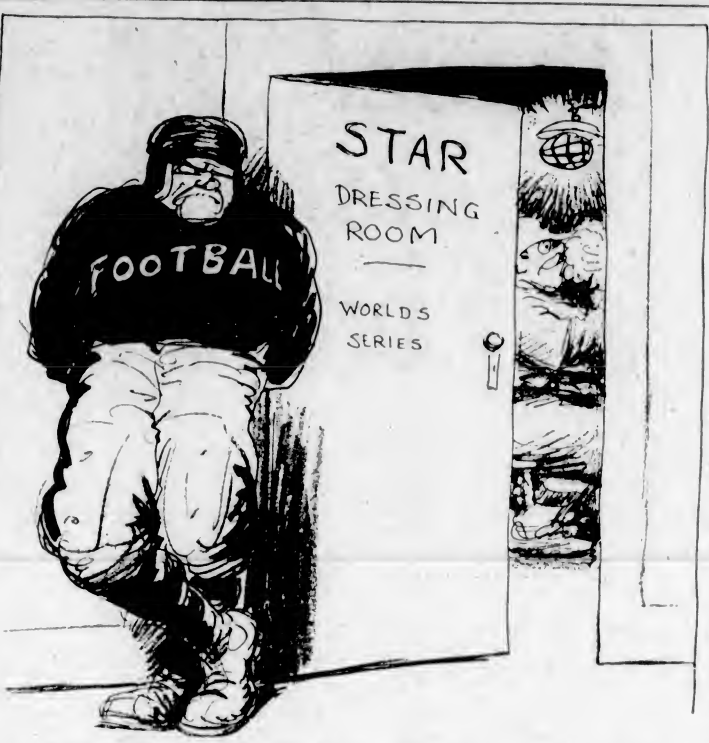

Sarazen is playing well, hitting a tremendous tee shot, and as cool as he has ever been in match play competition. Gene is one of the great players of the game. In addition to being a grand player, he is among the most tenacious I have met.

When he gets a match in hand he guards it like a bulldog, watching a hole. Sarazen is always a worthy opponent and he gave me a good run for it all the way.

When Jack Hutchinson meets Al Espinosa in the upper bracket it will be a case of a golfer who formerly ruled the professional roost in Chicago, playing the man who has been out in front from that section for the past two years. This should be a good game.

ARGENTINA EVENS POLO WITH U.S.

South Americans Take Second Game of Series by Ten Goals to Seven in Rough Battle

LEWIS LACEY HAS THRILLING ESCAPE

By PETER VESCHER
Editor of Polo
(Copyright, 1928, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

MEADOW BROOK, Oct. 3.—The horsemen from the Argentine evens up the international polo series yesterday at Meadow Brook. In a bitter, battling battle, perhaps as hard fought and as dangerously rough as any yet played, the Argentines beat the United States 10 goals to 7.

Thus the series for world supremacy at polo stands at one game each, for the United States won the first game on Saturday by the narrow margin of a single goal, 7 to 6.

The challengers from South America more than lived up to the promise shown up in their preliminary, when they were made favorites to beat the United States out of honors held continuously since the close of the war. Not only did they display all their dazzling team play, but they proved to the crowd of 25,000 which streamed into Meadow Brook's famed blue stands from a long line of special trains and an endless queue of motor cars, they could play just as tough a game of polo as a team trained in the hard school of the North American game.

A BRUISING BATTLE
No beetle-browed pugilist ever went through a more bruising afternoon than did the gentlemen from the pampas and their rival sportsmen from Long Island. Indeed, the game hit such a pace that it seemed for many anxious moments as though it could not possibly be brought to a close without a casualty.

In the first fiery moments of the third chukker, when the United States was working to overcome a 3-to-0 lead and the Argentines were fighting as belligerently to hold it, Lewis Lacey crashed head-on into the leader of the United States side, Thomas Hitchcock. Jr. Lacey went down, caught under the flying hoofs of his pony, Pepe. He could not escape for agonizing moments, and no one could get to him.

Then suddenly, from under the barrage of hoofs and legs, emerged Lacey, unhurt. The great Devereux Milburn, many times an opponent of the Anglo-Argentine star, went from the stand to his side, Mrs. Lacey on his arm, Louis E. Stoddard, chairman of the United States Polo Association, who also knows the sting of Lacey's wand-like mallet, rushed to him. Players crowded around, but Lacey rested only a moment and refused to quit, though Manuel Andrade was already warming up at the picket line to take his place.

Lacey's severe fall came at a critical moment for the Argentines. They were beginning to feel the first angry pressure of the United States attack, as Hitchcock and young Winston Guest surged and pounded their way to the front. Lacey, confident that they could make up a three-goal handicap, put as easily on this day as they did on Saturday.

Prospective Line-Ups for Today's Baseball Classic Announced

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The Cards and the Yanks will enter the world's series tomorrow with the same respective batting orders that finished the regular season. Miller Huggins committed himself definitely to the plan of leading off with the rest of his array. Robertson will take Dugan's batting position against right-handers, while the Cards will insert Holm into Harper's position against southpaw pitching.

Neither Huggins nor McKechnie would name his pitcher definitely, but the railbirds remained unanimous on Hoyt and Sherdel.

The batting order and the umpires:
St. Louis—Douthitt, cf.; High, 3b; Frisch, 2b; Bottomley, 1b; Hafey, lf; Harper, rf; Wilson, c; Maraville, ss; Sherdel, p.
New York—Paaschal, cf.; Koenig, ss; Ruth, rf; Gehrig, 1b; Meusel, lf; Lazzari, 2b; Dugan, 3b; Bengough, c; Hoyt, p.

Umpires—C. B. Owens (A), at the plate; Charles Rigler (N), first base; W. A. McGowan (A), second base; O. H. Pfirman (N), third base.

Winners of First Half of Coast League and Sacramento in Hot Race for Pennant

STARS MAINTAIN THIRD POSITION

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—San Francisco's Seals put on a scorching rally in the third inning today that swamped Los Angeles under a final 12-2 count. The Angels were powerless before Walter Mails, who let them down with seven hits and allowed them their two runs in the third.

Batteries—Pitt, Weatherly, Gable and Hannah; Mails and Sprinz.

Senators Still in Race

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 3.—Earl Sherry kept the Sacramento Senators in the pennant chase until the final day when he fired a home run over the left field wall in the ninth inning of the Seattle game here today, to give the Seals the verdict 5 to 4.

Batteries—Cole, Cox and Ainsmith; Keating, Vinci and Koehler.

Beavers Come Through

OAKLAND, Oct. 3.—The Portland Beavers touched McEvoy for fourteen hits today and a 10-4 win over Oakland. A two-run rally in the first inning put the Beavers in the lead and they held the advantage all the way.

Sherdel Will Go to Mound for Cardinals While Hoyt Will Take Up Burden for New York—McKechnie's Crew Favorites, But Huggmen Expected to Put Up Game Fight

80,000 Fans Will Watch Teams in Opening Fixture at Yank Stadium

By WALTER TROMBULL
Copyright, 1928, by the North American Newspaper Alliance
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Once again the annual baseball classic is with us, and it would not be surprising if the world series between St. Louis and New York, at the Yankee Stadium, would smash all records for attendance and receipts.

In the stands there will be somewhere around 80,000 rooters, tense with that excitement which always precedes the throw-in of the first ball. When you come to think of it, 80,000 is quite a crowd. It is greater than the population of Douthitt's birthplace, Little Rock, Ark., or Hafey's birthplace, Berkeley, Calif., or Meusel's birthplace, San Jose, Calif.

You could take all the residents of the towns where Alexander, Zachary, Bottomley, Sherdel, Pipgras and Paaschal were born, scatter them through the stands, and still have room for everybody living in Vermont, Ia., or Quincy, Mass., or Topeka, Kansas.

FIVE HUNDRED REPORTERS

The press seats will hold 500 or more reporters and telegraph and radio operators, sending each error, run, base on balls and strike-out, as they are made, to virtually every city in the United States. The result of the game and its highlights will be cabled or wirelessly to most of the countries on the globe. And where there are thousands who will see the battle, millions will listen to it on their radios.

Exclusive of managers and coaches, twenty-five men are eligible from each team. Not all of these fifty young athletes will actually play, but most of them will see action before the contest is over. There will be four umpires in their nattiest blue uniforms, police, firemen, groundkeepers and their assistants, trainmen, boys, ushers, and innumerable white-coated purveyors of refreshments.

Did you ever stop to figure how many sandwiches, hotdogs and ice cream cones have to be provided for a world series at a New York park? It is like catering for an army, and takes days of preparation and organization. Enough peanuts are bagged to furnish winter rations for all the chipmunks in the forest reserves.

In this series each manager places his main reliance on three players. Huggins on Hoyt, Pipgras and Zachary; McKechnie on Sherdel, Haines and Alexander. That doesn't mean the other pitchers will not get a chance. They are likely to get several chances, and the Cards might start Mitchell in a game, but the six pitchers in the mentioned figure to bear most of the burden.

HOYT IN FINE SHAPE

Huggins is almost forced to start Hoyt in the opener. The Brooklyn boy is a classic example of a pitcher, and has been the mainstay of the Yankees during the latter part of this season's race. New York will miss Penneck bitterly. The great left-hander is one of the best series pitchers of all time, but he is out and his team must do the best it can without him. Hoyt was effective against the Cards in 1926, and should be just as effective this time.

Sherdel is to start for St. Louis. Here is a big little southpaw, who, as the players say, has everything. He pitched splendid ball in 1926, but was unfortunately enough to run up against Penneck when Penneck was at his best. Against Sherdel, Huggins will play Paaschal and Dugan or Glazella at third. This will give him seven right-hand hitters—Koenig bats from either side of the plate—against a left-handed pitcher. Ruth and Gehrig will hit from a portside stance, but Lou and the Babe are likely to hit any pitcher.

There are several reasons why it seems probable to me that this baseball war may not be decided in less than six battles. Both clubs are game, both are powerful on attack, and both are good on defense. All in all, the Cards have the better pitching staff and are in better physical condition. On paper, they should win. The dope is in their favor, but the games will be won or lost on the field.

St. Louis won the National League flag this season by its ability to beat Philadelphia, Boston and Pittsburgh. Those three teams combined took only thirteen games out of sixty-six from the Cards. The Giants and Cincinnati each won the majority of their contests with St. Louis, and the Cubs split even with them.

YANKS BEAT CHIEF RIVALS

The Yankees won a majority of games from every club in their league. While the Giants took fourteen games in twenty-two from McKechnie's men, the Yankees beat the Athletics, their chief rivals, sixteen games in twenty-two.

That is one reason I do not believe the Cards are a cinch to win. There are other reasons. I do not, for example, underestimate Sherdel. I know he is a fine pitcher. Yet I doubt whether he will be quite as effective against New York as St. Louis fans expect, and even Alex.

AMATEUR BOXING TO BE RESUMED

Tillamook Athletic Club Will Show First Simon-Pure Fistic Show on Saturday, October 10

Officials of the Tillamook Athletic Club announced last night that the first of a series of amateur boxing shows to be staged this winter, will be held in the gymnasium on Saturday, October 13, at 8:30 o'clock. In addition to the bouts which will be staged every two weeks, the club and Island championships will be held early next year. Application to stage the British Columbia championships here will be made by the officials of the local club.

For the opening card, a number of leading Simon-pure boys appeared last year, are getting in shape, and indications are that the first show will be of a high-calibre.

Among the lads who will appear are: J. Warrner, Salt Spring Island; Art Sparman and Young Mank; Ladymith, Petrie, Nanaimo; Charles Storch, Hawkes, Wilfred Burdick, Frank Hall, Len Chadwick, Clarence Leak, Herbert Sutton and Tommy Drysdale. As the season progresses an additional number of newcomers will be introduced to the followers of the padded mite game.

All of the bouts will be of three three-minute rounds.

Bottomley Says Cards Stronger Than Yanks And Will Win Series

St. Louis First Baseman Believes His Team Will Cop Four of Six Games—Thinks Sherdel Class of Pitchers

St. Louis, Oct. 3.—The Cardinals, National League pennant winners, are writing, exclusively for this newspaper, the National League end of the world series with the New York Yankees. This is his third story. He will write a dispatch after each game.

By JIM BOTTOMLEY
First Baseman, St. Louis Cardinals, National League Pennant Winner, (Copyright, 1928, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—I pick the Cardinals to win the world series, four games out of six.

We needed seven games to "take" the Yankees in 1926, but we are a stronger club today. The Yankees are weaker, I see no reason why the series should go more than six games.

Why are the Cardinals more formidable than in 1926? There are several reasons. The team has a better pitching staff, a harder attack, and is more experienced.

Why are the Yankees weaker? In 1926 they had Pennock in prime form. Pennock defeated us twice, by close scores, 2-1 and 3-2. In each game he nosed out our star southpaw, Sherdel, and required much luck to win the 3-2 decision.

Pennock, as a result of a lame left arm, is missing from this series, and not only missing, but missed. Sherdel enters the series with his greatest season just behind him. Bill won twenty-one victories in 1928, this being the first time he ever won so many games in any league in a single season.

Sherdel has improved. Now the Yankees have no pitcher of Pennock's southpaw class able to take Pennock's place, and since Sherdel of this year is a better left-hander than the Sherdel of 1926, that difference alone should make the Cardinals heavy favorites, providing all other factors are equal.

Pitch in Opening Game

WAITE HOYT.

"WEE" WILLIE SHERDEL.

Above are the two opposing pitchers for today's opening battle between the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals. Hoyt will open for the Huguenots and Sherdel for McKee's crew. Hoyt won twenty-two games in the American League campaign, while Sherdel has one game less to his credit.

CARDS HAVE BEST DEFENCE.
The Yankees have more 300 batters in their infield than we, but I believe our great midway combination, Frisch at second and Maranville at short, gives us a tighter infield defence. There were only a few points difference in batting and fielding between the rival third basemen, so I believe the far corner is a standoff, with High taking good care of our end.

Certainly I give catching honors to our Jimmy Wilson, if for no other reason than that he caught more games than any other man this year. He batted only .264, but not one of the three Yankee catchers, Bengough, Collins or Grabowski, had a better mark. I consider Wilson one of the best all-round receivers in baseball. It's hard to get a good line on the three New York backstops. They alternate so much.

It is true the Yanks outbatted us by nine points during the regular season, but it also is a fact that our defence was six points tighter than that of the Yanks.

McKee plans to start his four aces, Sherdel, Alexander, Haines and Mitchell, and to have Phil Rheim and Syl Johnson ready for emergency duty. Sherdel will start the first game.

Manager Huggins, I understand, will use Waite Hoyt as his first game hurler. His other starters probably will be Tom Zachary and George Pipgras, with Henry Johnson and Fred Heimach in reserve.

When Noah sailed the waters blue He had his troubles, same as you. For forty days he drove the Ark Before he found a place to park.

Both clubs have veteran infields. The Yanks have a heavy hitter at first base, Lou Gehrig. They have two other 300 batters in Tony Lazzeri, at second, and Mark Koenig, at short. At third they have Joe

RUGBY TEAM ALL SET FOR OPENING GAME

Squad Will Hold Final Workout This Evening Before Initial Contest Here Saturday

JACK McDONALD TO BE BACK IN UNIFORM

Canadian Rugby in the "Big Four" League will burst into full volume on Saturday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park at 3 o'clock, when the Vancouver squad will lock horns with the United Commercial Travelers, Victoria's aspirants for the coveted Lipton Trophy. These teams will have the spotlight of local athletic activities turned on them in the opening game of the 1928-29 season. It is expected that the contest will attract a record-breaking crowd for an opening game.

Not since the inauguration of the league have so many promising youngsters answered Coach Rees' call for material to replace those veterans who decided to hang up their molokai for all time. With a wealth of new material developed, it will no doubt speed up the aggregation for the forthcoming battles. Last year the coach found his greatest strength in his many veterans, and as a result this season a fast, hard-hitting crew will be seen in action.

As in other years there are no outstanding favorites to capture the Lipton Cup, emblematic of the championship, which at present sits sedately in the University of British Columbia.

The team this year has been built around two stars of former years in Benny McMillan and Jack Horne. Ben will be anchor of the backfield, which is composed of Putnam, Newell, Hunnington and Gault. Horne will play on an outside position and will direct proceedings from that angle.

McDONALD BACK
A smile of happiness appeared on the countenance of Coach Cook last evening when he received the tidings that another of last year's stalwarts would be on the field for the opening game, in the person of Jack McDonald, one of the best players in British Columbia. Jack's return to the team will strengthen it considerably. Another rugged warrior who will serve to brace up the squad will be a chap named Emery, who arrived in town on Monday from Calgary. He played the game on the Prairies, holding down an outside position.

The team will terminate training this evening at the Royal Athletic Park at 3 o'clock, and the following players are expected to be on hand for the final drill before the opening game: McMurichie, Owens, McMillan, Putnam, Gault, Emery, McDonald, Hunnington, Henderson, Wightman, Kinsman, Morby, Mawhood, McAllister, Forbes, Lemm and De Blaquiere.

Tickets for the season can be purchased from any of the players.

RAIN HALTS FIFTH GAME OF LITTLE WORLD'S SERIES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 3.—Rain today halted the fifth game of the Little World's Series between Indianapolis and Rochester. It was announced that the teams would play here Thursday and daily thereafter, until one team wins five out of nine games.

Duncan Badminton Club Opens Season

DUNCAN, Oct. 3.—The Duncan Badminton Club opened the season at the Agricultural Hall last night, with a record attendance.

The playing quota is fixed at seventy members, and competition for membership is so keen that a large waiting list of would-be members has been compiled, which will be drawn upon as vacancies occur.

The club will be stronger than ever this year. Reed, a new member, and last year's champion of this season play with the local club. Peel, a former "A" player, is back in the game, and several others of marked ability have been accepted into membership.

Yankees Split World's Series Big Pot Already

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The Yankees yesterday decided what they will do with the money that they will receive for the first four games. All the regulars, including the incapacity of the regulars, who joined the cast in midseason, were voted a full share, as were two coaches, Arthur Fletcher and Charlie O'Leary. "Doc" Woods, the trainer, and Mark Roth, traveling secretary, will get three-quarter shares.

Stanley Coveleskie, a pitcher forced into retirement by a falling arm, Al Shay, a pitcher who went away and came back; Rosy Bill Ryan, a pitcher, who came in from the minors late in the season, and Harry Matthews, the "bull-pen" catcher, will get half shares.

Marty Campbell, a pitcher who went to St. Paul after starting with the champions, and Bill Dickey, a young catcher, who was recalled from Little Rock, will be cut in for $750 each. The groundskeeper and clubhouse men were voted $1,000 apiece, with $800 to Eddie Bennett, the mascot.

REFEREE FOR FIGHT NAMED

Roy Baker Will Be Third Man in Ring at Fielding Lewis Bout Saturday Night

The question of referee and judges for Saturday night's bout was settled last night when Roy Bayley, representing Tommy Fielding, and Billy Davies, for Dave Lewis, had a conference. For a time looked as if it would be impossible to agree upon the selection of any local sportsman for these positions.

After much wrangling Roy Bayley was selected as the third man in the ring, and it was decided to allow each manager to nominate one of the judges. Bayley's selection was C. Leach, and Scotty McKay was selected by Davies.

It was agreed that the referee be instructed that in the event of a foul blow being delivered during the contest that the fighter receiving the injury be taken to the hospital, and be examined by the doctor. In the event of the foul being genuine and not too serious the fighter will be given five or ten minutes to recover, and the fight will then proceed. In the event of the injured fighter refusing to continue, the decision will be awarded to his opponent.

The semi-windup between Tim Kist and Jackie Newman, of Vancouver, should prove to be a thrilling contest. These two fighters have appeared against each other on three occasions and each bout produced lots of action. Newman won one decision and the other bouts were draws. Both fighters have been working ahead since their last contest and are showing great improvement.

The bout between Jumbo Davies and Art Manning, of Vancouver, should also be good. This will be the second time on which these boys have met.

According to reservations being made for seats from the Cobble Hill district quite a number of fans from that locality are going to make the trip to Victoria to boost their representative, Charlie Bradshaw, who will swap punches with the hard-hitting Charlie Bradshaw in a four-round bout.

Houston Triumphs in Dixie Series
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 3.—Houston today won the Dixie series here today by beating Birmingham in the sixth game, 3 to 1. It was the fourth straight victory for the Texas Leaguers, Birmingham having won the first two contests.

Take Golf Easy Is Farrell's Idea

By SOL METZGER
Were every golfer to have his wish he would probably desire instruction from Johnny Farrell, U. S. Open champion. It would be at that, for smiling Johnny's ways of golfing are quite simple.

It's a sure bet he would tell you, as he did me, that the average golfer should never bend his left arm in taking back his wooden clubs. Johnny believes, and the proof is to be had on all courses, that most faults come from trying too hard. We get too tense and we overswing and hit too soon as a result. But if you let the straight left arm take the club back slowly and prevent it bending at the top most of our troubles would cease.

Farrell's idea is to let the wrists bend at the top so the club will come to a position parallel to the ground, as it will do if the left arm is now straight. But never overdo the thing by oversteering and oversteering. Farrell is also particular not to let most of his weight go to the right foot at the top. Let the left carry half of it. When most of it goes back the average golfer cannot slide it forward on the downswing, so he drops his right shoulder in consequence and turns both shoulders too soon. Take it easy is Farrell's idea in golf. It sure has worked for him.

FAVORITES TESTED IN P.G.A. GOLF

Hagen, Sarazen and Espinosa Given Hard Battles in Tournament Before Reaching Quarter Finals

WILLIE McFARLANE BEATEN BY SMITH

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 3.—Winning out by the narrowest of margins and in the tightest of matches, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa, favorites for the national professional golf championship, underwent a searching test of their courage and skill today before they finally advanced to the quarter-final round. Sharing this bracket with them when the day's shooting was over were two more veterans, Jack Hutchinson and Leo Diegel, and a trio of newcomers—Horton Smith, of Joplin, Mo.; Perry Del Vecchio, Greensburg, Pa., and Fred Dudley, Los Angeles.

Tomorrow's play pits Smith against Del Vecchio, Espinosa against Hutchinson, Sarazen against Dudley and Diegel against Hagen.

The big gallery was looking for fireworks in the match in which Sarazen downed the intrepid veteran, Jim Barnes, 3 and 2, but few looked for much, if any, excitement in the Espinosa or Hagen matches.

ESPINOSA HARD PRESSED
As it turned out, Espinosa fell into a terrible slump in his afternoon round after having his fellow Chicagoan, Bob MacDonald, five down in the morning eighteen holes, and started off defeat only by a desperate effort in an extra-hole match. Espinosa had the stuff to produce the birdie on the thirty-seventh green, and that was enough to save the day.

Hagen similarly had to flash his best golf to beat off a great bid by young Blanton in the final eighteen holes. A courageous effort which squared the match with two holes to go and had even the great Hagg a bit worried. Upholding his reputation as a great match player, Hagen came through to win them both and, but he had to shoot them both in par to do it.

A couple of boys who played giant killer with great success were Smith, who triumphed over Willie MacFarlane, one up, and Dudley, who downed Al Watrous, 3 and 2.

Neither victory was expected. Del Vecchio, the third of the youthful survivors, also sprang something of a surprise by defeating Glenn Spencer, the lone Baltimore representative, in a hair-raising match that went to the thirty-seventh green before he eventually stowed it away, one up.

T. D. H. Hodgins had a unique experience while a guest at the Buena Vista Hotel, Cowichan Bay. He was out shooting pigeons with a 22 rifle when he came across a fine buck deer, which he succeeded in bringing down with one shot. It weighed about one hundred and twenty pounds.

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

When the annual World Series rolls around the various managers in both leagues, even if they are bitter enemies, bury the hatchet for the time being and often pool their baseball knowledge against their common foe.

During the pennant race the rival clubs and managers may fight each other tooth and toenail, but the world series is a league battle, and the teams and managers of one league always back their winner against the rival league's champion.

A team may be getting the hit-and-run sign of the pennant winners all season, so before the world series the manager of this team will go to the manager of the champs and say, "We've been getting your hit-and-run sign all season. You'd better change them."

In 1906 when the White Sox played the Cubs in the World Series Ed Walsh had a habit of giving away his spitter by the movement of his cap bill, even if they were slippery elm. Connie Mack of the Athletics went to him and told him he was giving away his spitter, so avoided that habit during the series and beat the Cubs.

In 1917, Freddie Schupp had a habit of holding the ball at his chest before delivering a fast ball and at his waist before delivering a curve. Jack Combs, then in the National League, tipped Freddie off before the World Series with the White Sox that year to cut that out.

In 1921 Rosie Ryan of the Giants had the same habit, and the late Pat Moran tipped McGraw off.

LEGION BRANCH HEARS REPORT

ESSRS. SEDGER AND MACNICOL TELL OF DOMINION CONVENTION

Interesting Addresses Given at Langford Meeting of Returned Men's Organization

LANGFORD, Oct. 3.—A representative gathering of members of the Prince Edward branch No. 91, Canadian Legion, met last night at their regular monthly meeting with President A. G. Mackie in the chair. The local business was finished, Mr. Mackie introduced the Victoria district zone representative, Mr. W. Stone, who presided for the balance of the meeting and introduced speakers, Mr. G. H. Sedger, secretary of the British Columbia Provincial Command, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., who gave a report of the recent Dominion convention.

In his remarks, the chairman, Mr. Stone, mentioned that the rural district branches seemed to be the backbone of the Legion in the Dominion, possibly because there the turned men's problems were of one vital interest to the district in larger centres. He also mentioned the Victoria zone one of the best organized in British Columbia, maintaining eight branches. He emphasized the value of the Legion's auxiliary and the support that they are able to give the Legion.

Mr. G. H. Sedger explained how the Federal Appeal Board for pensioners came into existence and cited instances of how this appeal board at times overrode the decision of the Government Pension Board. He explained wherein additional power might be granted the appeal board and therefore how necessary that there should be concerted action on the part of the branches. In reply to a question, Mr. Sedger informed the meeting that through the action of the Prince Edward branch, one pensioner had just received a satisfactory readjustment of his pension.

Appreciation of the work of the Legion's advocate was expressed by the meeting with hearty applause. Mr. Robert Macnicol gave more instances of help that veterans had received through the help of the Legion and made a strong plea for unity in this work. He also explained how in industrial centres it was advisable for officers of the Legion to keep in contact with employers of labor and pointed out the importance of the steady growth in membership the Legion branches were having increasing weight with public, politicians, etc. He extended the good wishes of Sir Richard Turner, the head of the Dominion command.

Resolutions made at the recent convention advised that more attention be paid to problem cases and that the Provincial Government should be asked to take 50 per cent the responsibility of certain cases and strongly urged that 50 per cent all immigrants should be of British birth.

The Legion had obtained the right to distribute poppies and the work of making them should be confined to the Red Cross workshops. The speaker explained a movement to perpetuate the Legion and at the Government subsidized it the extend of $10,000. He advised the members that the cent privilege passed by Parliament regarding the Insurance Act held good until August, 1929.

The speaker ended with a cordial invitation to all members to hear eulogium to Colonel W. W. Foster at the auditorium of Pro Patria branch, 5 Courtney Street, Victoria, on Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Legion.

After passing a vote of thanks to speakers, the meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by members of the Women's auxiliary, Mesdames Porman, E. Selids, R. P. Brown and H. Pike.

Duncan Alderman to Leave for Nanaimo
DUNCAN, Oct. 3.—Alderman William Evans, of the Duncan City Council, has been transferred from the Duncan to the Nanaimo office of the Corporation. It is not expected that a by-election will be held to fill the vacancy.

"Why should a grease go up?" demanded the farmer.
"It is now being used for swimming suits."

South Saanich Young People's Society in Session at Keating

KEATING, Oct. 3.—The South Saanich Young People's Society held its regular meeting in the United Church parlor on Monday evening, when there was an excellent attendance. The vice-president, Mr. Stuart Stoddart, presided, and Miss Ida Heyer gave the secretary's and treasurer's reports. The annual play was discussed, and it was decided to have the secretary send for copies of "He's My Pal," which will be presented this season. It was announced that the harvest home service would be held in the church on Sunday, October 7, when an appropriate address will be given as well as seasonal music. The club members decided to decorate for this affair, and will meet in the church on Saturday afternoon for this purpose. Anyone in the district with fruit, flowers or vegetables to spare would do a kindness by leaving them at the church on this afternoon. After the service the produce will be given to the Protestant Orphan's Home in Victoria. Miss C. MacNab, of the literary committee, suggested the forming of a library for the Young People, and a list of suitable books was named. It was decided to adopt this suggestion, and each member will be expected to provide one book.

Miss C. MacNab led the devotional period which was held prior to the business session, and Rev. M. Lees gave an address on his series of talks on the formation of the Bible the subject of his talk being "The Book of Genesis."

The literary committee had charge for the remainder of the evening, and Miss C. MacNab gave a most interesting address, her subject being "Modern Poets." Following the meeting a social time was spent, and games enjoyed. The next meeting will be on Monday evening, and will be in charge of the citizenship committee on world problems, who have arranged for Rev. Montague Bruce, of Mount Newton, to speak on "Community Problems."

A presentation was made during the course of the evening by Mayor Busby to Mrs. Mortlock, who has been a most energetic secretary of the association for the past eight years. She was presented with a beautiful gold fountain pen and pencil to match, from the officers and members of the association, in appreciation of the wonderful services she carried out while secretary.

Young People Hold Temperance Service

The regular morning service of the South Saanich United Church was varied in an impressive manner on Sunday last when the Young People's Society took charge of a temperance service. Mr. A. Hafer, president of the society, led the service, and Rev. W. W. Lees, pastor, gave the address on "The Evils of Alcohol," issuing the challenge on behalf of temperance. This was accepted on behalf of the Young People by Miss C. MacNab and Mr. Roy Heyer. On Sunday morning, October 7, the harvest home service will be held, and a special address will be given by the pastor as well as special music by the choir. All will be welcomed.

Will Appoint Health Officer for Schools

DUNCAN, Oct. 3.—Trustees Fox and Gunn were appointed at last night's meeting of the Duncan Consolidated School Board to represent that body at a joint meeting with delegates from the city and municipal councils to decide upon the appointment of a medical health officer for the schools and united districts. Doctors H. P. Swan and E. L. Garner are applicants for the position. Tenders were opened from six firms for school supplies for the year, and that of Mr. H. J. Greig for $525.19 was accepted.

CLAIM SPARKS CAUSE DAMAGE

INJUNCTION ASKED BY RESIDENTS MILE OUTSIDE NANAIMO

Application Adjourned Two Weeks—Counsel Says Will Ready to Pay Increased Insurance

VANCOUVER, Oct. 3.—Complaining that sparks and sawdust from the sawmill of Nanaimo Lumber Co. Ltd., damaged their premises, James Bond and Mrs. Jean White, who reside about a mile outside of Nanaimo, applied through their counsel, A. Leighton, to Mr. Justice W. A. MacDonald in Supreme Court for an injunction.

The application was adjourned two weeks, after counsel for defendant company explained that there would be a change in the mill management by the end of the month and announced that his client was prepared to pay for any increased insurance which might be necessary. He added that an order compelling the company to shut down its burner, would throw 200 men out of employment.

Swedish Author To Address Women

Mr. Frederick Phillip Grove, known to his readers as author of several books with a Canadian setting but of non-Canadian birth, and widely traveled, is to address the Women's Canadian Club tomorrow afternoon at the Empress Hotel, his theme to be of some aspect of Canadian life and character.

Mr. Grove was born in Malmo, Sweden, and was educated in Sweden, England, France, Germany and Italy. At the age of twenty-four he set forth on wanderings which were to last for several years, finally settling down in Western Canada as a school teacher. He found life and the characters about him intensely interesting and began to write. Many novels and short stories have come from his pen, some of them still in manuscript.

"I wonder if she retained her own personality since she married Alan?" "Absolutely, and Alan's, too."

REST ROOM HAS BUSY SUMMER

Total of 5,265 Patrons Used Premises During July and August, Reports Show

The usefulness of the King's Daughters' restroom is fully demonstrated in the report of the two summer months, July and August, when a total of 5,265 patrons was reported. These figures were read in the report given by Mrs. James Stewart at the district meeting of the King's Daughters held in the restroom this week. Mrs. L. H. Hardie presiding.

The other work of the order has been carried on during the same period. Mrs. Hardie's report of the King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan showed that during July, ninety-three patients were admitted and eighty-five discharged, the total days' treatment for the month being 1,268. The total number of patients admitted in August was only twenty-five, ninety-nine being discharged, and the total days' treatment was 1,322.

The report of the tag day showed that $229.48 was collected, the net balance, after deduction of $2.81 for house buying, but offerings increased on the upturn and later houses with Northwestern connections were persistent sellers and deliveries at interior points so far this season totaled 165,000 bushels as compared with 47,000 bushels

last year. Weather forecast was for somewhat unsettled weather over the province, but threatening to report as nearly finished in many sections.

Murray estimated the crop of the three provinces at 512,000,000 or 12-

000,000 less than 1927. Export demand was a month ago. Export demand at the seaboard was only fair, with sales estimated at around 300,000 bushels, including some No. 2 hard winter. We still favor sales of wheat.

Corn: Market was more active

WINNIPEG, Oct. 3.—Wheat: Market was steady and unchanged during the first period this morning,

then taking a little run upward of about three quarters of a cent, realizing sales combined with a little hedging pressure and some selling by the local market, the market closed at a net gain of about one cent under last night's close, from which there were slight reactions.

Trade was much smaller than yesterday and lacked buying by porters and seaboard houses, the buying being mostly by commission houses while the trade was spreading, buying October against sales of December and May. The Chicago market was again drab and weak, helping to pull the market down. However, the local market was not weak considering the bulge of three cents yesterday and the general run of news being bullish.

In the cash market there was good demand for practically all grades with a very fair business passing,

but offerings are becoming larger and spreads are unchanged to half a cent lower.

Overnight export sales were reported as being very small, seaboard estimates total sales at 250,000 bushels, mostly Manitoba.

The weather in the Western provinces continues most favorable, but a few showers have been received the past twenty-four hours and more are promised. Look for a two-sided market, but would confide purchases to the setbacks unless foreign demand continues materially, which it may do at any time, as requirements are large and

on passage supplies decreasing.

Less foreign demand today. All grades are in demand, but would confer to the setbacks unless foreign demand continues materially, which it may do at any time, as requirements are large and

on passage supplies decreasing.

WEAK OPENING; STRONG RALLY; NET DECLINES

Stock Prices Rise Sharply After Weakest Opening for Months—Losses Partially Recovered

MARKET FOR BONDS BECOMES STEADIER

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The stock market gave another impressive demonstration of recuperative power today, rallying sharply after one of the weakest openings in recent months. Final prices, however, were irregularly lower.

Based on merger rumors, Mack Truck advanced more than 6 points to 101, while Republic Steel stock crossed 35 to a new high record, both, however, yielded part of their gains at the close.

Chrysler was again the outstanding individual feature, breaking more than four points to 119 on the first advance of selling the stock subsequently rallied to a new high record at 128, closing at 126½, up 3½ net.

Packard moved up 4 points to a new high record at 96. General Motors rallied from a low of 210½ to 214, closing just below that level for a slight fractional loss.

United States Steel common closed unchanged at 158½ after fluctuating between 156 and 159. Ludlum Steel was bid up nearly 10 points to a new high of 83½. Pierce Oil preferred ran up more than 6 points to a new top at 43½.

Early selling was most effective against some of the high priced specialties. Wright broke 1 but recovered 5½, and Curtiss rallied from a low of 132½ to 137½, off 2½ net. Montgomery Ward dipped 6½ points and regained 3½, while Radio came up all but 2½ of an early decline of 5½.

Rails yielded with the industrials. Jersey Central broke 7 on two sales and Canadian Pacific, Gulf, Mobile & Northern, Delaware & Hudson and a few others yielded a point or two.

Total sales, 4,051,700 shares. The bond market became steadier today as call money was cut from 8 per cent to 7 per cent, indicating that the month-end money squeeze had passed. Time money remained firm, however, and trading was again in very small volume.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

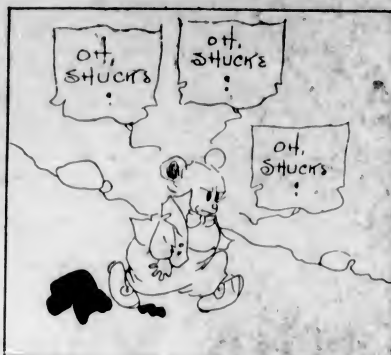

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

Claude had a jealous nature. When he fell in love with Wanda it tortured him to think that she might have been enamoured of someone else before he made an appearance in her life. And when Wanda went to the seaside for her holiday Claude lay awake at nights, trembling lest she might forget him during their absence from each other. At last Wanda came home. Claude went to meet her at the station. As soon as she stepped out of the train he swept her into his arms. "Darling," were his first words. "I love you if you wish, but swear that you have been true to me all the time."

FRENCHY BELANGER WINS RIGHT TO MEET GENARO FOR TITLE

TORONTO, Oct. 3. — Albert "Frenchy" Belanger, of Toronto, fought his way to a return bout with Frankie Genaro, National Boxing Association flyweight champion, by outpointing Marty Child, Philadelphia, in a fiercely contested ten-round bout here tonight. Belanger had his opponent on the verge of a knockout in the second, third and fifth rounds. The Genaro-Belanger championship match will be held here October 13.

Bays to Practice

The J.B.A.A. Rugby team will hold an important practice this evening at its headquarters at the Gorge at 8 o'clock. All members and all those interested are requested to attend as important business pertaining to the ensuing year in local circles are expected to be discussed.

FRENCH NET STAR BEATEN DOWN SOUTH

Pierre Landry Goes Under in Quarter Finals at Los Angeles Before Stanford University Ace

COCHET CONTINUES BRILLIANT PLAY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3. — Good players beat better ones in the Southwest championships today; three favorites in singles competition and one outstanding duo in doubles play, falling by the wayside as the racquets of five up-and-coming youths swept into the quarter-finals of both events. The most surprising of the upsets was the defeat of Pierre Landry, of the French Davis Cup team, at the hands of a Western youth, Alan Harrington, last year's Stanford University tennis champion. Harrington eliminated the Frenchman, 6-1, 2-6, 9-7.

Gerald Stratford, of San Francisco, Cal., doubles champion, surprised Berkeley Bell, the Austin, Texas, cannonball artist, in straight sets, 7-5, 6-4, beating the former University of Texas star at his own game of powerful shooting.

E. Vines, a youth of Pasadena, Cal., smote Ben Gorkhokoff, Occidental College "satellite" and semi-finalist in the national intercollegiate championships of 1926 and 1927, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4.

Two striplings conquered Landry and his French Davis Cup teammate, Christian Bousous, in the men's doubles. Jack Tidball, sixteen, and Cliff Robbins, eighteen, of Los Angeles, outgeneraled and outbatted their illustrious opponents to win, 7-9, 7-5, 6-3.

COCHET WINS MATCH
Henri Cochet, ace of the French squad and the twenty-year-old southpaw, Bousous, won their singles matches, but by the extreme of competition, Cochet won easily from Cliff Herd, of Los Angeles, and a former national clay court singles champion, 6-4, 6-1, but Bousous had a difficult battle on his hands in beating Bradshaw Harrison, Pacific Northwest and Oregon State champion, 3-6, 6-2, 8-6.

Cochet played a men's doubles match paired with Johnny Doe, twenty-one-year-old Santa Monica, Cal., southpaw. They won from Robert Laird and Hugh MacArthur, of Los Angeles, 6-0, 6-3.

Johnny Van Ryn, former Princeton University captain, attained the semi-final in the third bracket of the men's singles with a decisive straight set victory over Jack De Lara, of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-0.

BADMINTON CLUB REOPENS SEASON

Large Turnout Marks Initial Practice of Local "Y" Racquetters for Ensuing Year

The badminton club of the Y.M.C.A. held its initial practice at the "Y" gymnasium last evening, when a large turnout of members were seen on the courts. The new members were instructed to the finer points of the game by H. B. Witter and W. E. Harper, coaches for the year.

The club this season will be larger than any previous season, and will occupy the gymnasium from 5 to 8 o'clock every Wednesday evening, and from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Saturdays.

Next Wednesday evening the members will usher in the 1928-29 season by holding a social evening at the "Y." All members, and all those interested in badminton affairs are requested to attend.

The following attended the gathering of the club last night: Misses Florie Gates, P. Gates, W. Warnock, J. Menzies, A. Hammond, and Messrs. H. B. Witter, W. E. Harper, J. Hodsman, E. Kidd, W. W. Martin, E. Paulding and G. L. Mortimer-Lamb.

Turnout Is Large Despite Weather — Initial Swimming Classes Prove Popular With Fair Sex

Considering the inclemency of the weather, the showing for the initial swimming classes for ladies at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday was a good start last evening at 8 o'clock.

The young ladies received their instruction from Miss Audrey Griffin and Miss Gwen Bailey, two of British Columbia's foremost women aquatic stars. Amusement was expressed by several of the new pupils at the way the instructors instilled full confidence in them and the comparative ease with which they learned the fundamentals of swimming. The enlistment of new members to this club will be extended until the end of next week, when the lists will be definitely closed for the season.

It will be noted that many of the students that intend to compete in the school children's gala at the Crystal Garden on Friday evening were in attendance to receive their final tips from such well-known coaches.

PRINCE OF WALES SETS NEW GOLFING FASHION IN HATS
MOMBASA, British East Africa, Oct. 3. — The Prince of Wales set a new golfing fashion for Africa yesterday by using two hats and wearing a pink shirt on the links. One of the hats, a stiff brim affair, was used when making a shot. The other, an ancient floppy felt, was donned as he walked down the fairways.

The Prince was about to drive off the first tee when the inevitable small boy with a camera rushed up

Prince Pays Fine After Motoring Tragedy

Sixteen-year-old Prince Bertil, grandson of King Gustaf III, and son of Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf, who was killed in a motor car accident, paid a fine of $150 for driving an automobile without a license in Stockholm, Sweden, today. The court action was the aftermath of a traffic accident on the night of September 2, when the prince's car which Prince Bertil was driving, skidded from the road and overlanded near Kristianstad, resulting in the death of Karl Edward Thermanius, one of four college chums with whom the Prince was riding.

"Just let me make this drive and I will pose for you," said the royal player, with much more cheerfulness than the ordinary golfer would have displayed under the circumstances.

BILLY TOWNSEND FIGHTS TO DRAW

Vancouver Junior Lightweight Champion Holds New Zealander Even — Cerkan Beats Clough

VANCOUVER, Oct. 3. — Bert Brown, of New Zealand, and Billy Townsend, Vancouver, junior lightweight, fought ten fast rounds to a draw here tonight in the season's opener at the arena.

In the semi-final Pete Cerkan, of Tacoma, won a decision over George Clough, of England, in six rounds. Cerkan weighed 185 and Clough, 173.

Bobby Eber, 126, former bantamweight champion of Canada, and Hector McDonald, Vancouver, fought a four-round draw.

Nels Ferguson, 140, of Vancouver, held Jimmy Beck, of Tacoma, 140, to a draw, in four rounds.

CONFERENCE ON POWER RATE SET

Meeting Will Be Held With B.C. Electric Vice-President, Following Report to City Council

To discuss the power rates charged by the B.C. Electric Railway, the industrial committee of the City Council will be invited to meet Mr. A. T. Goward early next week, in order that the local vice-president may explain the situation to the aldermen. Heavy as was the rain on Monday, it affected only one day's supply at Jordan River, and the Brentwood steam plant will be required to supplement the service, as has been the case for some time.

The storage problem is acute this year, with an unusually dry season. The normal pressure on supply is about five weeks, but on this occasion it will be longer, B.C. Electric Railway officials intimate.

Bankers Are Told Golden Age of U.S. Is Now at Its End

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3. — Leonard P. Ayres, vice-president of the Cleveland Trust Company, Cleveland, said yesterday that America's "golden age of business" that began with the opening of the Great War, has come to an end.

Mr. Ayres, who spoke before the American Bankers' Association in convention here, said he was stating frankly what bankers had all come to realize, namely, "that the most important business fact of 1928 is that we have lost a half-billion of our monetary gold."

The new age will be more sober, Mr. Ayres pointed out, although the American people are still in a mood of "invincible optimism."

"Stocks," he said, "are now selling on expectation rather than on realization, and prices must come down."

"I thought sure Jim would marry one of the twins."

"No, he said if he couldn't have an exclusive model he would have any."

Bread Making around the world

South Africa

The Real Dutch Oven

THE ant hills which abound in Southern Africa form convenient natural ovens. A hole is cut through the clay-like shell at the bottom and the fire built up inside, which is honey-combed like a sponge. Ordinary cooking is done on top of the dome, but for Bread making the oven is thoroughly heated and the fire drawn. The bread which is made from flour, baking powder, or sourdough, is then placed inside, the oven sealed with clay and left until baked.

How vastly different to the giant travelling ovens of the modern Fourx Bakery, where oven heat is automatically regulated to the fraction of a degree and over 3,600 loaves 4X are scientifically baked to perfection every hour.
